COMEDY AND POLITICS AT THEATRE TONIGHT

'Business as Usual' Slogan Of Popular Players Who Outwit Supervisors

Legal fireworks crackled and snapped around the tent theatre of Murphy's Comedians in Casa Verdugo last night, when two dozen men armed with sawed-off shotguns from the Los Angeles county sheriff's office, led by Deputy Sheriff James F. Townsend, swooped down just as the box office was opening, prepared to arrest the crowd and close the show. But the show goes on packing them in and tonight the motto will be BUSINESS AS USUAL.

They had no warrant, according to J. A. Menard, manager of the players, but hoped to make an arrest in the presence of officers, under a technicality. Mr. Menard, however, "had one up his own sleeve," and turning to Sheriff Townsend, said:

"Sorry, Mr. Townsend, but this show is being operated under a new license, as Mahurin's Players!"

While the sheriff's men stood by impatiently, Mr. Menard then led Sheriff Townsend to the home of John Everson, 611 North Central avenue, who, with J. M. Blankenship is acting as legal counsel for the comedians.

Satisfies Officers

Mr. Everson then satisfied the sheriff that a proper bill of sale had been executed, transferring ownership of Murphy's Comedians to R. T. Mahurin of the company, and that Mr. Mahurin had on August 13 secured from the license bureau of the tax collector's office in Los Angeles a license to conduct a tent show for the balance of the month.

By the time Mr. Menard and Sheriff Townsend had returned to the tent, close to 1800 people were inside, eagerly listening to campaign speeches by Willis N. Abbott and Donald H. Webb, in favor, respectively, of Charles C. Fife and O. B. Manchester as candidates for county supervior for this district, and opposing Henry W. Wright. More political speeches are promised at the tent tonight in addition to three acts of hilarious comedy entitled "The Love Test."

DISORDER MARKS DEBT PLAN DRIVE

Communists Force Reichstag To Delay Discussions On Reparations

By S. D. WEYER
For International News Service.

BERLIN, Aug. 22.—The decisive battle in the Reichstag over the ratification of the Dawes reparation plan agreement opened today with the bitterest debate in prospect.

"Dissolution and a plebiscite" were to be the heavy guns brought forward by the government's artillery. Chancellor Marx, Foreign Secretary Stresemann and Dr. Luther, "the government's most experienced gunners," led the fight against the anti-Dawes forces—German nationalists, Hitlerites and Communists, who have become uncommon comrades in a common cause.

Disorder Reigns

Marx, Stresemann and Luther maintain that rejection of the Dawes plan would mean economic collapse for the Ruhr industries, prolongation of the sufferings of the populace in occupied territory and a bar to resumption of negotiations with the allies.

Communists threw the Reichstag into turmoil as soon as the session opened. The disorders became so great that the sitting was adjourned until 5 o'clock.

Girl 'Safe Cracker' Reported to Blame For Los Angeles Job

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22.—For the first time in the history of Los Angeles crime, according to the police, the operations of a girl safe-cracker were noted today.

Following reports that safes had been broken into and $85 taken in two Santa Fe avenue factories during the night, detectives made a hurried investigation.

On some papers strewn before the opened safes, the investigators were startled when they saw the clear imprints of a woman's French heel. The woman was either a member of the gang or its leader, the police believe.

40-Acre Industrial Tract to Be Developed by Baird And Associates

By RALPH A. LYND
Of The Evening News Staff.

Negotiations that have been pending for the acquisition of a forty acre tract at Broadway and San Fernando road were closed today when A. L. Baird, president of the Valley Mortgage & Finance company, 211 East Broadway, and a group of his associates, took over the property for a consideration of $160,000, which is said to be the high mark for a transaction of this nature in Glendale.

The land is to be divided up at once into sites for industrial plants, and Mr. Baird states that the Southern Pacific company is now laying drill tracks at the tract that will touch every lot and that will afford hauling facilities to the occupants of every plant that will be erected. The cost of the installation of the tracks is placed at $35,000.

All Facilities at Hand

The tract lies alongside the pipe lines that carry the gas from Kern county and the pipe lines of the Associated Oil company from the Bakersfield and Taft region also touch the property, so that, with the installation of gas and water mains through the tract, every need of the factories that will be erected there will be supplied.

The plans for the tract have been approved by the City of Los Angeles, in which the property lies, and the Los Angeles city and county planning commissions have also approved the maps that have been prepared and submitted to them to show the development of the property.

The owners have deeded a right of way across the rear of the property for the proposed truck highway that has been recommended by the planning commissions of Burbank, Glendale and Los Angeles to parallel San Fernando boulevard and Riverside drive.

Demand for Property

Mr. Baird states that applications have already been received from a number of concerns for sites in the tract, and officials of the Southern Pacific company, which is fostering the development of industrial property from Los Angeles to Burbank, declare that they will be able to bring enough applicants here to permit the owners to dispose of the entire tract within the next two years.

The land was bought from the Glendale Industrial Syndicate, which numbers among its members Harry MacBain, Thomas W.

Two Slightly Hurt as Truck, Trolley Collide

A truck driven by F. A. Hempleton of Monterey Park, near Pasadena, was struck by a Glendale-Montrose car at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the Glorietta avenue crossing of Canada boulevard. The truck was badly damaged, but Mr. Hempleton is reported to have escaped uninjured.

Several passengers in the trolley were badly shaken up, according to the report filed this morning at Glendale police headquarters by L. E. Thompson, the motorman of the trolley. A Kiefer and Eyerick ambulance was called and took Mrs. W. Mitchelmoore of Montrose and Mrs. A. N. Hinckey and three children of La Crescenta to the Glendale hospital, where they were treated for cuts and bruises.

OLD PARTIES IN APPEAL TO LABOR

Sound Business Conditions, Continued Employment Are Vote-Getters

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Special correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Both the Republican and Democratic campaign managers are going after the labor vote. And this, notwithstanding the endorsement by the American Federation of Labor of the La Follette-Wheeler ticket.

The two major parties feel that the opportunity of the laboring man in America depends upon sound business conditions and continued employment. They are prepared to demonstrate that votes given to La Follette and Wheeler mean only business chaos, a period of uncertainty and retrenchment all along the line and much suffering to the unemployed.

Fear Inaction May Result

The Republican argument is that a protective tariff means good wages and prosperity. The Democrats contend that when the Wilson administration was in power the highest wages in the history of American labor were paid. These two ideas will dominate the appeals of the Republican and Democratic parties. But there will still be another method of approach to the laboring man. Does he want groups and factions to dominate the next Congress or does he want a period of inaction? It is conceded that the La Follette ticket can not elect enough members of the Senate and House and control those bodies. Does the laboring man want the wheels of legislation to be stopped altogether and a two-year deadlock?

The Republican party is able to function if it obtains a sufficient majority of conservatives and the Democrats are insisting that they have fewer insurgents in their ranks than have the Republicans and that the Democratic party can operate efficiently if given control of the executive and legislative machinery as occurred in the eight aears of the Wilson administration.

Want to Keep Jobs

The laboring man is, in some respects, a radical. Many of the men who are for the La Follette-Wheeler ticket are Socialists and radicals who believe that change in the economic order could be accomplished without pain to their

COOLIDGE PLANS ACTIVE CAMPAIGN

Two Speeches Scheduled for President; May Confer With Dawes Sunday

By GEORGE E. DURNO
For International News Service.

PLYMOUTH, Vt., Aug. 22.—President Coolidge today decided to take a far more active part in the coming campaign than was planned originally. It is expected his itinerary will have been completed by the time he is ready to return to the capital next week.

Two speaking engagements have been arranged thus far. In the ensuing six days' vacation, still other plans will be worked out. Besides speaking in Baltimore September 6, it is likely that he also will appear before the World's Fraternal congress meeting in the District of Columbia immediately following his return at the end of this month.

The remainder of the president's stay will have a political aspect.

Plan Vermont Day

A "Vermont day" has been planned for Monday, when residents of the state will meet here to pay homage to its distinguished son. Besides, ceremonies in connection with a meeting of the Home Town Coolidge club have been arranged.

Other political factors in the president's vacation include the possibility of a visit from General Charles G. Dawes. He is to speak tomorrow in Augusta, Maine.

Other political leaders, attracted to New England by the Maine state election, may call,

FLYERS RESTING IN GREENLAND BEFORE JUMP TO LABRADOR

American Aviators Make 825-Mile Hop Across Atlantic Ocean from Iceland; Continue Flight When Weather Permits

LONDON, Aug. 22.—Lieutenant Locatelli, Italian flyer, who left Reykjavik, Iceland, with the United States army round-the-world aviators, but who got separated from them en route, has reached Frederiksdal, Greenland, according to word received by the Star today.

ON BOARD U. S. CRUISER RICHMOND, August 22.—Lieutenant Smith and Lieutenant Nelson, American record smashing round the world flyers, who arrived at Frederiksdal, Greenland, after an 825 mile jump from Reykjavik, Iceland, will attempt the next leg of their flight within a day or two if weather conditions permit, according to radio information received on board today.

Smith was the first flyer to reach Frederiksdal, landing at 6:10 o'clock Greenwich time. He finished his flight in a thick fog. At that time neither Nelson or At that time neither Nelson nor flyer, was in sight. The coastwise time of Smith's jump from Iceland was approximately ten hours.

Forced Landing

Nelson and Locatelli were not in sight when Smith's plane settled on the water. Smith said they had become separated, and that he did not know how far the others were behind him.

Lieutenant Locatelli, the Italian flyer, who left Reykjavik with the Americans, got separated from them during the flight. During the early stages of the journey the Italian was in the lead.

According to a wireless report, Lieutenant Nelson made a landing of a few minutes at Skerjafjord, sixty-five miles south of Reykjavik, but caught up with his colleague, Smith, after taking the air again.

Go to Mainland

The next jump of the flight will take them to Labrador, the mainland of the North American continent.

The American machines stood the long flight admirably. It was the most severe test they had stood, as the flight was several hundred miles more than the original plans called for. During part of the trip the Americans encountered cross-winds, which put a big strain upon the planes.

Italian Missing

Lieutenant Locatelli, Italian air "ace," who accompanied the American flyers on their hop-off from Iceland for Greenland, was missing today. American warcraft were ordered to search for him.

Just before midnight Rear Admiral Thomas P. Magruder, commander of the American light cruiser Evans, received a radiogram that Locatelli had not arrived at Frederiksdal. Orders were given for the Richmond, the cruiser Raleigh and the destroyer Barry to search the waters east of Cape Farewell at the southern extremity of Greenland.

A scout plane with a long cruising radius was ordered out in an effort to locate the missing Italian. An earlier radiogram said that Locatelli had not been sighted at Frederiksdal at 7:45 Greenland time Thursday.

Police Reserves Stop Riot as Leopold and Loeb's Defense Is Begun

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
For International News Service.

CRIMINAL COURT, CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—Two bulky text books on mental disease and insanity were used by defense attorneys today in an effort to block the pathway of Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard A. Loeb toward the gallows.

The authors of these books were state alienists — Doctor Archibald Church, H. Douglas Singer and William Frohn—who less than a week ago swore to their respective beliefs that Loeb and Leopold were not mentally diseased.

Walter Bachrach, for the defense, filed the records of Judge Caverly's court today with huge extracts from these books describing the symptoms of various types of mental diseases, and then fitted "Dicky" and "Babe" into the pictures.

Clothing Torn

There were a half dozen riots on the fifth and six floors of the building. Women's hats and dresses were torn, men's straws went down in the melee like chaff before a windstorm, as the hundreds tried to crowd into the little courtroom that holds almost four hundred people.

The lawyers, the relatives, and even Judge Caverly himself had to fight their way through the mob that stormed the building. Even as the bailiffs rapped for order at 2 o'clock the sounds of shouting men and women came through the closed courtroom doors. Several times the mob tried to rush the doors, and the perspiring policemen and bailiffs

THREE BANDITS GET JEWELS WORTH $100,000

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Three armed bandits entered the wholesale jewelry establishment of Feldenheimer & Jacoby, on the ninth floor of the office building at 170-172 Broadway, below the police "dead line," tied up two men in the establishment and got away this afternoon with jewelry valued at $100,000.

CHESTNUT HILLS, Mass., Aug. 22.—Miss Eleanor Goss of New York won the women's invitation singles tournament at the Longwood Cricket club this afternoon by defeating Miss Helen Jacobs, 15-year-old Berkeley, California, girl, 6-3, 6-2.

BANDIT CAPTURED, ANOTHER SHOT BY VICTIM

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22.—When three bandits attempted to hold up his jewelry store here today, Sam Prager opened fire with a revolver, capturing one of the trio, seriously wounding another, and putting the third to flight. The captured man gave his name as Edward McHenry, saying he came here from Chicago, arriving yesterday from San Francisco.

SCIENTISTS SEE STORM ON PLANET

Disturbance Traced Across Martian Equator; Think Violent Blizzard

LOWELL OBSERVATORY, Flagstaff, Ariz., Aug. 22.—The planet Mars is gripped by a severe storm, American scientists told International News Service here today.

Resembling a snowstorm in appearance, the disturbance was traced last night and early today by the astronomers, who said a small dark speck had been watched as it slowly moved across Mars.

The storm, the scientists said, first appeared below the Martian equator and appeared to be moving northward at a fairly good speed. This morning it crossed the equator and spread out, becoming much "thinner."

Territory Large

Scientists said the storm covered territory about as large as the states of Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma.

The storm, the astronomers asserted, had every appearance of a violent snowstorm or blizzard, forming in the mountains of Mars and then spreading. At first the surface of the planet was obscured by the storm but gradually conditions cleared.

The American scientists declared they were almost certain the disturbance was a snowstorm, although it may have been a sand storm or cyclone, but if this were so it was more severe than anything similar occurring on the earth.

Summer on Planet

The delicate measuring instruments of Dr. W. W. Coblenz of Washington, D. C., which was perfected by him to measure heat radiation, failed to detect a change in temperature during the storm. Dr. Coblentz said this was due to the fact that the storm covered a comparatively small area.

Dr. Coblentz said today that the four American astronomers at this observatory were convinced now Mars is much warmer than supposed. He declared that the summer season is now approaching on the distant planet and that the south polar "snow" cap had rapidly receded, indicating that the Martian temperature was almost as high as that of the earth.

Believe Inhabited

Changes noted in the planet this week, he said, indicating changes in possible vegetation on the planet, denoting possibly seasonal crops and habitation and substantiating claims advanced by Dr. Lowell some time ago.

The scientists said they were particularly pleased with the observations last night which afforded them some of the clearest views of Mars on record.

HOLD OFFICER ON ALLEGED ATTACK

Cicero Policeman Must Face Grand Jury on Charges Of Rosetta Duncan

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 22.—Policeman Benjamin Delaney, of Cicero, charged with assault with intent to kill Rosetta (Topsy) Duncan, was today ordered held for the grand jury by Justice Henry Williams in the local police court.

Another crowd gathered in the police station courtroom today when prosecution and defense closed their arguments in the case which had its origin July 4 when the Duncan sisters and friends were arrested for violating a traffic signal as they were returning from the Hawthorne races.

Hands Were Held

In ordering Delaney held, Judge Williams said, "in view of the fact that Miss Duncan's hands were held when she was struck a serious blow, I am forced to hold this defendant for a grand jury investigation."

Policeman Widlock of the Cicero force was held for grand jury action on a similar charge several days ago. Other charges of assault and battery are pending against both men and against Chief of Police Svoboda of Cicero.

Martians Too Busy Getting Ready for Winter to Signal

LICK OBSERVATORY, MOUNT HAMILTON, Cal., Aug. 22.—Martians may be too busy getting in the winter coal to bother signalling the earth.

The first of a series of photographs of the planet on its nearest visit to the earth taken here, distinctly shows a white "V" extending toward the equator from the Antarctic circle. Astronomers say it might either be a fresh snowstorm or a glacier. At any rate the deduction is that Mars has a "cold spell" on hand for those residing south of the Martian equator.

Work of photographing and observing the planet will continue for ten days. No scientific conclusions are being given out by the scientists gathered here.

REFORESTATION IS LUNCHEON TOPIC

Ex-Governor G. C. Pardee Addresses Kiwanians On Fires' Menace

The prosperity of California and every Californian depends on the conservation of water in the state, and this can be brought about only by the conservation of the natural coverings on the watersheds, Dr. George C. Pardee of Oakland, former governor of the state, and at one time mayor of Oakland, told members of the Glendale Kiwanis club at the meeting held today noon at the Tuesday Afternoon club.

"The greatest menace in California is fire," Dr. Pardee said. "It is a case of suppress the forest fires or go broke. The danger lies in Southern California particularly, as the watersheds in this section of the state are becoming barren, while the watersheds in northern California have not been totally burned off as yet.

Tells Cost of Blazes

"Forest fires in California will strip the land and leave it as barren as the deserts in adjoining states, where large forests once flourished and were destroyed by water. Years ago the rivers in California were large streams and a mammoth lake was located in Utah, where only the Great Salt Lake, a mere remnant of that massive body of water remains. All this was caused by forest fires.

"In the national forests last year there were 1,374 fires, fought by the national forestry departments at a cost of $128,000, which burned over an area of 175,000 acres. Last year in California outside of the national forests there were 979 fires, fought by the state at a cost of $22,180, obtained from the state treasury. These fires devastated 608,000 acres of forest lands. Last year Los Angeles county spent $78,000 fighting fires on the watersheds in the county.

Must Maintain Trees

"There are not enough reservoir sites in the state to compound the smallest fraction of the water needed. Trees and grass are nature's own reservoirs, and can be maintained at a small expense."

Dr. Pardee told about the early history of this section of the state, saying that he was here 55 years ago. He traced the growth of the state from that time to today. Dr. Pardee was introduced by P. J. Hayselden, who has known Dr. Pardee for a number of years.

J. Arthur Myers, director of the Glendale Sympnony orchestra, led the community singing at the club today and the members voted to

BIDS WILL BE CALLED FOR BY COUNCIL MONDAY

Glendale Ready to Proceed With Sanitary Project, Morrow Reports

By H. THOMPSON RICH
Of The Evening News Staff.

The $1,600,000 issue of bonds voted to build Glendale's extensive sewer system connecting with the Los Angeles outfall sewer was approved this afternoon by O'Melveny, Millikin, Tuller & McNeill, Los Angeles attorneys retained by the city to pass on the validity of the bonds, according to Ray L. Morrow, Glendale city attorney, and on Monday, August 25, the City Council will introduce a resolution calling for bids on the first unit of $652,000.

These bids will be received at once and opened and read before the session of September 11, when the award will be made, Mr. Morrow states. The bonds are now being printed and will be delivered to their purchasers without delay and the proceeds received into the city treasury, after which the City Council will advertise for bids on the work, which is to be done under the supervision of Burns and McDonald, Chicago and Los Angeles sewer engineers, who have prepared the plans and specifications for this large scale project.

All Steps Taken

All corrective steps to satisfy the bond attorneys that the bonds will be valid have now been taken, Mr. Morrow declared, when making the above announcement, and the thirty-day period following the last ordinance passed by the Los Angeles City Council in relation thereto, will terminate September 8. O'Melveny, Millikin, Tuller and McNeill state in their written approval of the bonds that providing they are sold subsequent to that date they will, in their opinion, be valid, he states.

That the sewer bonds will sell at a premium is a foregone conclusion, Mr. Morrow believes. Interest in their purchase has been keen and several syndicates have approached the city in an effort to secure them at private sale. The law provides that municipal bonds must be placed on the market at par or better, according to Mr. Morrow.

Work Will Be Pushed

Virgil B. Stone, Glendale city manager, who has kept in close touch with the sewer bond situation at all times, declared this afternoon that every department of the city government will cooperate to push the work through at the earliest moment; and while stating that he is unable to say at this time how long it will take to complete the work, he predicted that it would go forward in record time.

Kid M'Coy Sufferer From Paresis, Claim

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22.—Statements of Dr. Cecil Reynolds, defense alienist, that "Kid" McCoy, charged with having murdered Mrs. Teresa Mors, is the victim of a "well-marked incipient case of paresis" were denied today by alienists employed by District Attorney Keyes, who have pronounced McCoy sane. Dr. Reynolds is an English brain specialist.

Dr. Reynolds, who examined McCoy at the county jail, reported to McCoy's lawyers that the "Kid's" mental weakness is such that if he lives three years he will be completely paralyzed and totally demented."

K. C.'S TO ELECT LODGE OFFICERS

Committee Named to Assist In Raising Fund for Ricardo Memorial

Election of officers for the coming year is to take place September 4, it was announced last night at the meeting of Knights of Columbus in the clubhouse on East Lomita avenue.

Grand Knight Jesse E. Smith was in charge of the meeting. There were two committees appointed. John De Ferie was named temporary chairman and J. G. Monahan, George H. Killinger, E. J. Albright and Frank Wallace, members of a committee to raise funds for the Father Ricardo memorial. Members of the publicity committee are Herman Psenner, chairman, W. V. Lawlor and Frank Wallace.

Hosts at Party

The Knights were hosts Wednesday night at a five hundred party, at which there were nineteen tables. Prizes were won by J. O'Neil Farrell, first; Jesse Chappius, second; Mrs. George Franklin, first.

Radio entertainment was enjoyed through the courtesy of the Glendale Music company, which loaned a radio for the occasion.

Valentine Supports City Court Amendment

Superior Judge L. H. Valentine, candidate for re-election, has made a fine record on his good work in behalf of useful and economic legislation. That is the judge's record, looking out for the interests of the people and fighting attempts at bad legislation and extravagance.

At the November election the people will be called upon to ratify the proposed constitutional amendment creating municipal courts in cities of 40,000 or more to take the place of township courts in those cities and to have jurisdiction over cases involving $1000 or less.

Judge Valentine, after having made a very careful investigation, is interested in the passing of the proposed amendment and regards it as not only the solution of a very congested condition of superior courts but also as affording a speedy handling of litigation involving $1000 or less. This ruling has been adopted in other cities with good results and Judge Valentine has actively supported the amendment in his talks throughout the county.

BUSINESS LOOKS BETTER IN WEST

Frank H. Evarts Reviews Conditions After Two Months In East

"Business conditions in Southern California are better than those that I encountered in any place that I visited throughout the east," asserts Frank H. Evarts, 163 South Central avenue, who, with Mrs. Evarts, has just returned from a two months' trip that took them to the Atlantic seaboard and that brought them back through the middle west, Canada and the Pacific coast states.

"In Detroit I noticed a large amount of unemployment, especially in some of the automobile factories, and the same unemployment condition exists to a great extent in New York. Chicago is building many costly structures, and Buffalo is also busy, and San Francisco and Oakland, in our own state, are better than any of the eastern cities."

Many Coming West

Mr. Evarts, who attended the annual convention of the Elks in Boston, says he met a number of people in that city who have been in Southern California before and who are now planning to come here as permanent residents. The extreme cold and the big coal bills they have to pay back there are sending them out west," he says.

Mr. Evarts looks for a drop in the prices of many commodities as soon as the presidential campaign is over, he says, as many of the concerns are overstocked and are only holding prices to their present levels until after election.

Farming conditions show improvement, he adds, and the prospects for good crops in the middle west are excellent, even though many crops are coming along later than usual.

Offer Varied Stocks In Vacation Clothes

The Coast to Coast Army store announces in the advertising columns of this issue an unusually attractive array of bargains for everyone. According to Manager S. D. Goldsmith, it makes no difference whether your needs are for outing, mountain hiking or vacation wear, the new stocks just received at this enterprising store will fill your requirements.

Special attention, Mr. Goldsmith says, is given the working man and his needs. To facilitate his shopping the store remains open evenings until 9 o'clock.

Wilbur Says U. S. Navy to Be on Par With Great Britain

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—The present policy of the navy department is to keep the navy on an absolute par with Great Britain in all branches covered by the armament limitations treaty, and to build up the auxiliaries not covered by the treaty so they will be at least equal to England's, Secretary of the Navy Wilbur declared today. He is visiting the Great Lakes naval training station.

"We desire also," said Wilbur, "not only to add to our air defense, but to continuously advance that arm of the service until it is second to none, for it is one of the most important branches of our defense."

Old Parties Making Big Appeal to Labor

fellow workmen, but the vast majority of laboring men judging by past campaigns, are keenly interested in keeping their jobs and having a good wage paid them. Anything that is likely to disturb their jobs worries them. The Republicans in many national campaigns have been able to turn the tide of labor votes in their direction by the simple device of raising the cry of panic and business depression which was supposed to be an accompaniment of a Democratic administration. The Democrats for years felt the handicap for they had not been in power and could not point to a record of good business conditions; the last Democratic administration of 1892 to 1896 was accompanied by a period of business upset. The Democrats were, therefore, very glad when they were able in the eight years of the Wilson administration to prove that their control of government not only did not hurt business but helped labor.

Want No Experiments

The real objection to Democratic rule was that it had not been tried in many years. The same kind of argument now is going to be used with the working man to dissuade him from casting his ballots for the La Follette-Wheeler ticket. General Dawes, in his acceptance speech, referred to the third ticket as symbolizing a system of administration which was "unsound" and "untried."

The working man wants no experiments that are likely to hurt him. He is at heart a conservative in the sense that he doesn't want change except for the better. He thinks the Democratic party will bring a return to the high wages of the Wilson administration, he may lean that way. If he thinks his present wages are high enough and that employment will be continued by having no interruption of the Republican administration, he will vote against any change. But if he once gets it into his head that the La Follette ticket means business uncertainty, all the endorsement of the American Federation of Labor and local labor leaders will not prevent him from voting in secret as he really believes.

Labor Not Solid Unit

The general impression has been conveyed that labor has been a solid political unit in all campaigns. It has not been. But it has a fluctuating vote and the best analysis of the election returns of previous years concede that labor usually votes for the party which it believes will immediately improve business conditions, wages and employment. As proof of the relatively little influence which the American Federation of Labor has had in past campaigns the experience of 1918 is cited. In that campaign President Wilson had the support of Samuel Gompers who endeavored to make a speech in New York in favor of Democratic congress, but he was hissed and booed by one of the important trade unions. He has maintained for the most part a policy of non-partisanship largely because the membership of the American Federation of Labor is divided between the two major parties. The old Socialist vote, however, still survives. This, plus the aggressive attitude of the big rivals of the American Federation, namely the railroad brotherhoods and the political situation inside labor's ranks, brought out the formal endorsement of La Follette. The two major parties have not been discouraged by it, but are laying their lines for an even more vigorous campaign to retain the labor vote.

PIONEER COUPLE IN CELEBRATION

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Parker Mark 46th Anniversary Of Their Wedding

Congratulations were being extended to Mr. and Mrs. Archie M. Parker of 135 North Louise street, on the orcasion of the forty-sixth anniversary of their marriage, which took place in the University Church in Blue Island, Ill.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Parker are natives of New York state. Mrs. Parker was formerly Miss Kate Reynolds. They have made their home in Glendale thirteen years and have hosts of friends here.

To celebrate the day Mr. and Mrs. Parker went to Hollywood this afternoon to attend the Egyptian Theatre and later enjoy dinner.

Dinner Is Planned

A family dinner tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Parker's sister, Mrs. Florence Wilson, at 1321 North Maryland avenue, will be an added celebration of the anniversary. Of special happiness at this affair will be the presence of Mrs. Wilson's daughter, Miss Tennie Dixon of New York, who arrived recently on the Manchuria, via the Panama canal, and will leave Monday on the same boat for the return trip. Both Mrs. Wilson and her daughter were present at the Parkers' wedding forty-six years ago.

Davis Speaks Twice at Spring Lake, N. J.

SPRING LAKE, N. J., Aug. 22.—John W. Davis, Democratic presidential candidate, delivered a "twenty-minute shot" in an address this afternoon before 300 members of the New Jersey Democratic party at a luncheon in the Essex and Sussex hotel in Spring Lake today prior to his main speech at Seagirt.

"Never in the history of Democracy has the party been united from ocean to ocean more than it is in this hour," Davis said. "I shall spare no effort, shirk no exertion and shall shrink from no test that my endurance will support."

Do You Know the "Savings Feeling"?

A SENSE of prosperity and independence belongs to the saver. He is prosperous, for in his savings pass book is the key to financial advancement. He is independent, for his savings provide a bulwark against adversity and through them he may purchase whatever he wants that money can buy.

The saver holds his head high. He feels that he is a more important citizen of his community—and actually is. The possession of property of any sort—from a savings account to the many things that grow out of it—engenders better citizenship.

That is the "savings feeling." It may be purchased in small monthly payments through a teller's window at this bank.

Both of our Glendale Branches have Savings Departments, and will gladly furnish one of our Beneficial Accounts, in which the bank has entered a conditional deposit of One Dollar.

USE BLACK-JACK TACTICS, CHARGE

Wright Blamed by Tujungans For Killing Petition on Incorporation

Charging that Supervisor Henry W. Wright and his associates on the board of supervisors used a "blackjack" on the people of Tujunga in the matter of their petition that an election be called to decide the question of incorporation of that town, M. V. Hartranft, president of the California Home Extension association of Tujunga, is mailing to voters throughout the Fifth supervisorial district, which includes Glendale, a statement of the facts in the case, urging that Wright be defeated in the primary election on Tuesday, August 26.

Mr. Hartranft, in his letter, after quoting from excerpts from the official records of the meeting at which Tujunga's appeal for incorporation was rejected by the supervisors, declares that Supervisor Wright and the "Solid Five" denied Tujunga the right of an election to test the question. He points out that the law provides that, upon a petition of fifty electors the supervisors shall call an election and the ballot shall decide the question at issue, and, although the petition submitted carried a number of names far in excess of the legal requirements, it was denied.

The claim that the present board of supervisors is acting under what is described as a "Harmonious unit rule" that permits the settlement of important matters in the dark, is made by Mr. Hartranft, who declares that "we need a criticizing minority right now."

SISTER OF WORLD AVIATOR IS WED

Miss Frances Smith, Late Of Adventist Academy Faculty, Is Bride

Miss Frances Smith, sister of Lieut. Lowell Smith, commanding officer of the round-the-world flyers, at Cape Farwell, Fredericksdahl, Greenland, who was a teacher in the Glendale Seventh Day Adventist academy, was married last night, Thursday, August 21, 1924, to Lewis Bolander, in the White Memorial chapel at North State and New Jersey streets, Los Angeles, just as the news was being received of her brother's attainment.

A large company of relatives and friends of the young couple witnessed the ceremony.

Miss Smith wore a gown of white satin and lace, with veil caught with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses.

Other members of the bridal party were Mrs. Frederick Woods, matron of honor; Miss Vera Henderson and Miss Louise Weisenhutter, bridesmaids; Oxy Henderson and Alexander Thompson, ushers.

Many Friends Here

Mrs. Bolander has many friends in Glendale through her association with the Glendale academy. She has lived the greater part of her life in California. Her marriage to Mr. Bolander is the culmination of a school-day romance, which began when she and Mr. Bolander were students at the Lodi academy.

Following the ceremony a buffet supper was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Smith, 807 North Ditman street.

Mr. Bolander is a second-year student in the medical school at Loma Linda.

The young couple are to be at home after September 1 at 410 Fremont place, Glendale.

MRS. JAMGOCHIAN CALLED BY DEATH

Pioneer Glendale Resident Succumbs to Sudden Heart Attack

Mrs H. Jamgochian, 85 years of age, a native of Armenia, died suddenly yesterday afternoon(Thursday, August 21, 1924, at the home of her son, A. M. Jamgochian, at 1905 South San Fernando road. She had just returned from a vacation outing at Venice and was apparently in good health until seized with a sudden heart attack.

The deceased was the mother of six children and had three great grandchildren and eight grandchildren. She leaves countless relatives and friends in Asia, Europe and in the United States. She was a widow for fifty years.

Mrs. Jamgochian had lived a most interesting life. Born in Armenia, she was in that country in 1896 at the time of the first massacre by the Turks, in which she lost one of her sons. At that time she went with relatives to Manchester, England. Although there was no school for children when she was a girl, she learned to read and write in the Armenian language when a mother of six children, and was able to correspond with her family.

Church Worker

She came to Los Angeles twenty years ago and helped organize the Congregational Armenian church fourteen years ago. She was a devoted student of the Bible, having read it a number of times. Her active interest in church affairs was always maintained.

For eleven years Mrs. Jamgochian had lived in Glendale with her son.

Arrangements for the funeral services are being made by the L. G. Scovern Undertaking company. The hour of the service and interment in Forest Lawn Memorial park will be announced later.

CHAS. F. TALBOTT CONTEST WINNER

Awards In Pendroy's Baby Competition Made at Children's Party

Convincing reflection of the predicament of the Old Lady Who Lived in a Shoe, who had so many children she didn't know what to do, was seen yesterday afternoon on the second floor of the Pendroy store on South Brand boulevard at Harvard street, where Mrs. Earle C. Pendroy was hostess at the annual children's party, marking the close of a popular baby contest won by Charles Falkner Talbott, Jr., 7-months'-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Talbott of 311 Road's End, with 440,854 votes.

Second place was won by Ruth Evelyn Frazier, 18-months'-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Frazier of 587 West Stocker street, with 331,846 votes; while third place was given to Viola Mae Bowers, 16-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bowers of 1413 East Wilson avenue.

Fairy Godmother

Mrs. Pendroy found herself fairy godmother to a host of kiddies, mother, grandmother, aunties and other adults, all of whom were comfortably seated before a cunning little theatre stage cleverly constructed in the second floor annex.

Long before 3 o'clock, the hour announced for the program, the juvenile guests and their adult companions began to arrive. They were received by members of the store staff and the kiddies found little chairs arranged for them in the section directly in front of the stage. Chairs for the adults were back of these.

Mrs. Louise Saeger presided at the piano and entertained previous to the beginning of the program. Entertainment of the afternoon consisted of: recitation, "Pete the Peddler," Vera Mercer of the Emerson School of Self-Expression; toe dance, "La Petite Polka," Margaret Ege, of Marcella Webb dancing studio; impersonation in costume, "Solomon Levi," by Charles Sawhill of Emerson school; pianologue, "The Story Book Ball," Mrs. Howard Cronkright; recitation, "Sambo's Prayer," Vera Mercer; solo, "Marcheta," Charles Sawhill; recitation by Rhea Le Shon; "Basket Dance," Margaret Ege; solo, "Mighty Lak a Rose," Mrs. Bernice Center; specialty number introducing "Bimbo," the favorite clown, N. C. Smith.

Announce Winners

The final event was the announcement of the winners of the baby contest. The first prize was a twenty-five-dollar merchandise order; the second, a white enameled high chair; and the third a lovely "Mama Doll."

There were forty-five girls, forty boys and one set of twins entered in the contest, which covered a period of four weeks.

Every entrant in the contest was presented with a special souvenir, and every kiddie present up to 8 years old received a favor.

Following the program punch was served by members of the store staff.

A special feature of the contest was the photographic work done by Ostrom of 206 East Broadway. Mr. Ostrom took a picture of every entrant, and these pictures proved interesting to those attending the party yesterday.

Recruits Sought for Junior Odd Fellows

Glendale Odd Fellows are anxious to complete their junior organization by the addition of sixteen more boys between the ages of 14 to 21 years, it was announced at the lodge meeting last night in the lodge hall on West Broadway. Names of eligible boys are to be handed in at the regular lodge meeting next week.

At the meeting last night a challenge was issued for a competitive drill in degree work. One team is to be composed of visiting Odd Fellows and the other of members of the Glendale lodge.

An invitation was received from Burbank lodge for the third and deciding game of five hundred at Burbank September 2. Van Nuys lodge has also been invited to the contest.

Fire Unit to Place Patrols In Mountains

The Glendale unit, Angeles Forest Protective association, met last night at the city hall, Chief P. J. Hayselden presiding, and considered a number of matters relative to spending the $5000 recently appropriated by the Los Angeles county Board of Supervisors for guarding against forest fires in the Glendale district.

Stuart Flintham, county forester, will go over the territory tomorrow with Mr. Hayselden, it was announced, with a view to placing of patrols and lookout stations. Leo Lang, first assistant chief, stated that he will endeavor to procure aero maps of the district.

Urge Annexation of District to Glendale

A petition is being circluated among property owners between Sycamore canyon and the Pasadena city limits for the annexation to Glendale of a large district reaching from Glendale to Pasadena and touching Flintridge on the north.

The petition was prepared by Leslie R. Tarr, deputy city attorney, in accordance with the request of Bert Farrar and other property owners of the district.

Should this district be annexed to Glendale it is felt by those behind the project that ultimately this city would benefit by a greatly increased assessed valuation.

LETTERS EXPRESS NEW SAFETY VIEWS

Evening News Congratulated By Readers for Better Driving Campaign

Letters filled with praise and congratulating The Glendale Evening News on the Automobile Safety Week campaign staged last week in Glendale by The Glendale Evening News, continue to reach the office of this paper. Roy B. Coeur, of 529 North Louise street, compliments The Glendale Evening News for the success of Safety Week and expresses his appreciation for the successful campaign. Mr. Coeur says in his letter:

"I heard a good one on us the other day. A woman school teacher attending the summer session at the southern branch of the University of California remarked, upon learning that I lived here, that she had driven through for three weeks and had not been arrested yet. She seemed to think that she had performed a marvelous feat, and that she should almost be decorated with a good luck cross of some kind."

Mr. Coeur agrees with the suggestions made by The Glendale Evening News during Safety Week relative to the duties of traffic officers, he says in his letter. He approves the idea made by The Glendale Evening News that it should be the duty of traffic officers to patrol the streets, to watch and instruct drivers who drive too fast at times or who violate some ordinance through ignorance. It is a constructive suggestion, Mr. Coeur says, as he feels that a word from an officer is all that is needed, for in the average case there is no intent to do wrong.

F. D. Warner, of 207 West Maple street, compliments The Glendale Evening News on the Safety Week campaign, and makes the suggestion that Glendale follow the example of Culver City in putting motorists on the "honor system." The Safety Week campaign has caused many motorists to stop and think, Mr. Warner says in his letter, and was a great factor in reducing the number of automobile accidents in the city last week.

Girl Scouts, In Camp, Act and Eat Wieners

More news of an ideal vacation outing comes from the Glendale Girl Scouts' camp at Hollywood Beach, three miles from Oxnard.

On Tuesday night Troop 5 was in charge of the campfire program, which included charades acting out Scout laws, which were guessed by the girls gathered about. Later Mr. Meyers, the storekeeper, was host at a weiner roast.

Reports state that every evening from sundown until "Taps" there is a cold wind blowing, however, the days are warm and with plenty of warm blankets the campers are most comfortable.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS

"Young people aren't what they used to be," is the wail of the older people today, just as it has been in every age and generation. Observation suggests many ways in which the lives and conduct of the young folks of today should be improved. They have had such wonderful opportunities they should be advanced far beyond their parents and grandparents in conduct and achievement. We have a right to expect more of them because they have had more to work with.

But, before censuring the young people of today too strongly, and before making too odious a comparison between this generation and the past, read this excerpt from a letter written by Edward Everett Hale when he was attending Harvard college in 1837:

"On conversing this morning with those who had been present at prayers, I found that there had been considerable noise and that one or two of our class were drunk. On going to morning prayers they found a good many panes broken in university window. There was a good deal of noise in Dr. Ware's recitation room. There were one or two apples and a lemon which were being thrown constantly from one side of the room to the other, to the imminent danger of the heads they happened to be aimed at. In the evening, after supper, I heard a tremendous explosion which I thought was a pump blown up. I found that either this or a later explosion which I did not hear, was made by a torpedo put on the sill of one of the windows of university." And, again:

"When we went to prayers this morning we found the chapel in great confusion owing to the explosion of a bomb placed in front of the pulpit. The windows were all broken, almost every pane of glass being destroyed, the front of the high platform on which the pulpit stands was blown in, the plastering broken in several places where pieces of the shell had entered, woodwork of pews, window panes, and seats hurt in some places, the clock injured, part of the curtain inside of the pulpit torn away, and a couple of inscriptions in immense letters on the wall to this effect: 'A bone for old Quin to pick.'"

EVOLUTION AND CHRISTIANITY

Every once in so often the fight between the advocates of evolution and Christianity is taken up with renewed vigor. While some of the men who have advanced the doctrine of evolution were agnostics, many great men who have made a study of this theory have found nothing in it that denies God or refutes the teachings of the Bible. Herbert Spencer, one of the most eminent of evolutionists, said, "Amid the mysteries that the more they are thought about, the more mysterious they appear, there still remains the one absolute certainty that he is in the presence of an Infinite and Eternal energy, from which all things proceed."

John Fiske, one of the foremost of American evolutionists, never abandoned his faith in a personal God and personal immortality, although he did abandon certain dogmas thought by his family to be an essential part of the Christian faith. He wrote to his mother at one time: "When my Cosmic Philosophy comes out you will see how utterly impossible it is that Christianity should die out; but how utterly inevitable it is that it should be metamorphosed even as it has been metamorphosed over and over again."

Lyman Abbott said of John Fiske, a good many years ago: "To no one man more than to John Fiske do we owe the fact that in this country science and religion are not foes, and that in increasing numbers their respective advocates recognize in each other comrades, seeking by different paths, to come to a knowledge of the truth."

CHEAP TRAVEL

The automobile and the auto camp have made it possible for people to see the country who otherwise would never get a hundred miles from home. The average family can pile into the flivver and go back and forth across the continent, enjoying the marvels that nature has so lavishly spread for our wonder and delight at not much greater expense than the cost of remaining at home.

The cost for clothing is less than it would be at home, for a khaki suit, heavy shoes and sweater for each member of the family is about all that is required. There are no hotel bills, no tips, no taxi fares. Accommodations in most auto camps are so inexpensive as to be practically free, and the cost of food would be about the same as at home, although life in the open does stimulate the appetite.

Those who cannot afford to travel any other way, and who turn down this method of seeing the country and broadening themselves on account of the slight discomforts and inconveniences that might be encountered, are cheating themselves. Travel is always educative, and one can learn as easily and meet as varied types of human nature in a flivver and an auto camp as in a luxurious limousine, a Pullman car or a hotel.

SCIENTIFIC SLANDER

The scientists are always calling us names. Now an eminent man comes forward and divides the human race into two classes. You are either a syntonic or a schizoid. You cannot escape. No one is exempted. You are either one or the other. If you live in harmony with your background you are syntonic; if you fight it you are a schizoid. It would seem to be more desirable to be a syntonic, but perhaps not. Roosevelt and Harding were syntonics, Washington and Wilson were schizoids. Even the illustrious dead are not exempt. With which of these men will you line up? Are you a syntonic or a schizoid? Remember, unless you change your nature, you must answer to this name the rest of your life.

Humanity must breathe a sigh of relief now that this matter has been attended to and everyone is properly classified.

ELECTION DAY ALIENS

Are you an election day alien, asks a national weekly in a discussion of vote slackers. Election-day-alien is a rather good name for the man or woman who has the right to vote, but persistently and consistently neglects to use it.

Senator Shipstead, the Farmer-labor senator from Minnesota, was elected by 26 per cent of the possible vote in his state, Senator Howell of Nebraska by 32 per cent, Senator La Follette of Wisconsin by 28 per cent, Senator Lodge of Massachusetts by 22 per cent, and others by an equally small proportion of the possible vote.

We call this popular government. If you have registered, don't be an election day alien on August 26.

Keep cool in time of danger, but don't get cold feet.

THE AIR SERVICE MAY HAVE ANOTHER PROBLEM TO SOLVE

Fool Friends

By DR. FRANK CRANE

The successful as well as the unsuccessful have reason to implore the Deity to deliver them from their fool friends.

This remark is occasioned by the action of some of Mussolini's friends in Italy who thought they were doing a service to the cause of Fascism by removing Deputy Matteoti.

Anyone who has studied any kind of movement knows that it is easier to start one than to stop it.

It is easier to get people excited than to calm them. It is easier to raise the devil than to lay him.

Everyone who has had much to do with popular movements is aware of this. In fact everyone who has ever attained any amount of conspicuousness knows it. It is hard to be temperate and at the same time manage an affair which depends upon intemperance for its motive power.

Most of the people in the United States, for instance, were in favor of the abolition of the saloon with all its attendant evils. It would seem they have enough to do with fighting their enemies and the enemies of the cause, but probably as much harm has been done by the unwise friends of prohibition as by its enemies.

Extreme and injudicious attempts to limit the liberties of their fellow men have seriously injured the efforts of those who are trying to put across a reasonable and rational reform.

The same thing is true of the labor movement. The effort to place the laboring men in a position where they can get justice is interfered with quite as much by their friends, the Communists and Socialists, as it is by their enemies. It would be much easier to secure justice for the working men if they could always restrain their intemperance and ill-advised friends.

Everybody, almost, is convinced that the worker does not receive his share of the profits, at least that what his share is should not be determined by those who have control merely of the capital, but far from everyone is convinced of the radical attacks made by the Socialists and Communists and others, in favor of the working man as a class.

The legitimate of every party, to be of benefit to its country is injured quite as much by its fool friends who make extravagant claims that cannot be justified as by others.

It seems impossible to secure a decent balance in the human system, just enough radicalism and just enough conservatism. In everyone some tendency seems to predominate.

Horoscope

Astrologers read this as a threatening day, for Jupiter, Saturn and Mars are all in malefic aspect.

It is a day in which to conserve the energies and to pursue beaten paths in all activities.

Jupiter is in a place threatening to merchants and manufacturers who may be affected by apprehensions of bad business.

All the signs appear to presage a winter in which trade shows a revival and unemployment is less of a problem than in certain previous seasons.

The entrance of the Sun into Libra at the beginning of the autumn quarter, a month hence, will be attended by aspects indicating many disturbing conditions, the weather indications being especially uncertain and stormy.

For today the signs foreshadow many problems for men who hold high ambitions or who carry big responsibilities.

At this time there is indicated a tendency toward libel and misrepresentation which will be unfavorable to political candidates.

Jupiter threatens the welfare and peace of mind of those who represent high finance. Bankers may have more than ordinary hazards, owing to an untoward condition in which some international problem is involved.

Saturn frowns on industrial progress at this time and the autumn may bring many labor troubles.

Strikes and riots may be precipitated and there will be much agitation among workers.

Again warning is given of seismic shocks which may do great damage.

Saturn again is in an aspect presaging serious upheavals in India among the people who will manifest increased discontent.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of rather an active and troublesome year in which they will accomplish much.

Children born on this day may be headstrong and self-willed, but with right direction these subjects of Virgo attain great success.

A SLOW METHOD

Most men would be willing to earn their money honestly if it didn't take so long.

Today's Poem

ONCE ON A TIME

Once on a time I used to dream
Strange spirits moved about my way,
And I might catch a vagrant gleam,
A glint of pixy or of fay;
Their lives were mingled with my own,
So far they roamed, so near they drew;
And when I from a child had grown,
I woke—and found my dream was true.

For one is clad in coat of fur,
And one is decked with feathers gay;
Another, wiser, will prefer
A sober suit of Quaker gray:
This one's your servant from his birth,
And that a Princess you must please,
And this one loves to wake your mirth,
And that one likes to share your ease.

O gracious creatures, tiny souls!
You seem so near, so far away,
Yet while the cloudland round us rolls,
We love you better every day.
—Margaret Benson.

Smiles

LOGICAL

At a small country school the scholars were having a lesson on animals. The teacher had asked a number of questions which were easily answered. At length, she said:

"Why does a dog hang out his tongue when running?"

A lad who had not answered before held up his hand.

"Yes, Tommy, what is it?" she inquired.

"To balance its tail," was the reply.—Dublin Evening Telegraph.

POLITE UNDER TEMPTATION

Aunt—And were you a very good little girl at church this morning, Sallie?

Sallie—Oh, yes, Aunty. A man offered me a big plate of money and I said "No, thank you."

Who's Who

ROBERT P. SKINNER

The appointment of Robert P. Skinner, formerly American consul general at London, to succeed Alexander M. Thackara, who retired as consul general at Paris on July 1 of this year, again brings attention to an Ohio man.

Skinner, who was born in Massillon, Ohio, February 24, 1866, entered the consular service in 1897. Previous to this he was owner and editor of the Evening Independent, Massillon, Ohio. From 1897 to 1901 Skinner was consul at Marseilles, France, and consul general from 1901 to 1908. He was then transferred to Hamburg, where he served as consul general from 1908 to 1914. From January till July, 1914, he was stationed at Berlin; from there he went to London, where he served for the past ten years, during the trying days of the World War and reconstruction period.

In addition to his other duties Skinner served as commissioner to establish relations and negotiate a treaty between the United States and Ethiopia in 1903, and a special detail for the purpose of adjusting the claims of the creditors of the Republic of Liberia in Great Britain, France, Germany and the Netherlands in 1912.

He is the author of the book "Abyssinia of Today."

Do You Know

About 5,000,000 persons speaking foreign languages are on American farms.

It is estimated that there are more than 600,000 Russians living in the United States.

It is estimated that not less than 15 persons read every copy of a Chinese newspaper.

More than three-fourths of New York's population is foreign born or has foreign born parents.

Slaughtering and meat packing is the largest industry in the United States, with petroleum refining second and automobile manufacture third.

The Ravings Of a Grouch

I have the same antipathy for one who takes out his spite on another anonymously as I have for a crawling worm. An anonymous letter or telephone message is like a stab in the back. The sender wishes to harm some one, keeping clear of all danger himself. There is something sinister in the nature of one who feels impelled to "spite" someone and who is too cowardly to fight openly. Some hold-up men wear masks. Others, apparently, are too honorable.

There are some young people who have the wrong idea of fun who make a practice of using the telephone in this way. Two school girls who thought they were being clever had been amusing themselves by calling stores and ordering goods sent to false addresses, making appointments at beauty parlors and with taxis under fictitious names and addresses, and the like. One went so far as to select a telephone number at random, pretend to the man who answered that she had an appointment with him and when his wife insisted on coming to the phone explained that the husband had scraped acquaintance with her on the street and made an appointment to take her out to dinner. These people traced the call back and this little, too-smart girl had a lesson she will not soon forget.

There are some who seem to have the anonymity complex. They are always trying to think of smart ways of perplexing some one by sending an anonymous letter or calling them anonymously on the telephone. It seems to them equally clever to conceal their identity entirely or to say they are some one else. I have known those who have taken great pains to learn to disguise their voices for this purpose.

At that, it takes some one pretty clever to "get away with" the anonymous message. It is the most difficult thing in the world not to show up the little mannerisms and pet expressions in such attempts. Then, also, a man knows his enemies just as well as he knows his friends and can always be depended upon to figure out just who would have an object in doing such a thing and who would stoop to such methods of taking out his spite, getting even for a real or fancied injury and so forth. So the anonymous person is seldom as anonymous as he thinks.

I recall an anonymous letter that was shown me by an acquaintance. There was only one person in the world who could have had any object in writing such a letter and his own particular, pet phrase stuck out so prominently as to almost hit the reader in the face. It was so obvious it was funny and yet the man who wrote the letter was considered intelligent by some.

The one who hides behind anonymity to do his dirty work would be funny were he not so contemptible. I will be more charitable. He would be contemptible were he not so funny.

RICH LIQUOR CARGO

SAN PEDRO, Aug. 22.—The British ship Lochmonar is in port here with 100,000 cases of high grade Scotch whiskies bound for British Columbia ports. The liquor is under seal, but it has been necessary to employ special watchmen, as it is estimated that should the cargo fall in bootleggers' hands it would be worth $8,600,000 to them in the Southland.

WALKING STICKS

LONDON, Aug. 22.—Walking sticks are growing more and more frequent and more and more bizarre. In colors to match the costume or to contrast with it, they have fancifully carved knobs of ivory, crystal or jade.

LOOKING AT MARS NO JOY TO LAYMAN

One Sees Red Mostly With Yellow Mixed Into Color Scheme

By L. C. OWEN
Special Correspondence of the Glendale Evening News. Copyright, 1924

LICK OBSERVATORY, Mount Hamilton, Aug. 22.—Taking a slant at Mars through the barrel mouthed official observatory telescope here as that much discussed planet came within a paltry 34,640,000 miles of Mother Earth last night—the nearest it will come in its present spasm of meandering from its own celestial fireside—is woefully lacking in kick to the ordinary layman.

To get a thrill out of such things one must be an astronomic savant with a bent toward highly scientific six syllable words and higher mathematics that relate mostly to geometry and trigonometry. One also must have trained orbs for spotting such things as alleged Martian canals that might be a hair in a telescope, varying atmospheric densities and changing shifting color schemes which may denote the scientific solution of any one of a myriad of perplexing astral mysteries.

How It Looks

To the unlearned and astronomically unsophisticated lowbrow who just "rubbers" in the remote hope of seeing the mules that pull Martian canal boats, it is no scenic feast. In fact there are few things so sadly lacking in nerve tingles.

Looking at Mars through a regular astronomer's "glass" which is sixty feet long and more than a yard at muzzle, is largely a proposition of seeing red. For Mars runs mostly to red—a great big splotch of red—with dashes here and there of yellow, a few wisps of black and an occasional shifting white. There is not enough of yellow, however, to warrant any interferences regarding the people who may live on Mars.

The red that covers most of the Martian landscape runs the gamut of almost a dozen varying hues. Its brightest is about like that of a glowing ember just ready to burst into flame on down the line to a much darker crimson not unlike reddish black of overripe beefsteak. Where there is yellow it also varies from ochre to German roller canary blend.

Rather Hazy Sight

Looking at a planet half the size of the earth even through a real he-size glass, is rather a hazy proposition. Not even man's ingenuity in building yard-wide telescopes has yet overcome the handicaps of looking through a few dozen million miles of ethereal void. And ethereal spaces are hazy.

The first impression on looking at the red blotch, which astronomers tell you in advance is Mars, is that the haze spoils everything. The nicety of the human eye however, overcomes what man's ingenuity has yet failed to do. After you have glued your best long distance orb to the bottom of the telescope for a period of several minutes the human eye commences to do what a man built telescope cannot do—penetrate the seemingly impenetrable haze.

It is after the human eye has proven victorious over the intervening blue that the presence of yellow on Mars becomes apparent—also that there are shifting paths of white which astronomers tell you are clouds and dim twisting streaks of black which they likewise inform you are probably canals.

Canals Furnish Ice

Martian canals, according to scientific theories, are wonderful things conceived by Martian engineers for the purpose of conveying fresh ice from the Martian polar zone during the hot summer seasons to sweltering planetary folk who have to live in Martian equatorial regions.

Not even the human eye however, can penetrate the intervening haze to the extent of seeing Martian ice blocks floating down Martian canals. The reputed method of Martian ice transit, via canal, it should be explained, however, is merely a scientific theory. Like a lot of other Martian theories, it cannot be disproven.

Despite the fact that some astronomers here keep their eyes glued to the big observatory telescope all night long during the present trek of Mars earthward—and find something entertaining every minute of their long vigils—twenty minutes is sufficient for the layman to get fed up on such astral planet gazing.

locked hands and repelled the assault at the very threshold of the trial room.

Seldom has a Chicago criminal court—or any other court—witnessed such a scene.

Judge Calls Police

Judge Caverly at 2 o'clock telephoned the chief of police to rush reinforcements and a score of heavy shouldered blue coats came on the double quick to help control the situation.

"Terrible! Terrible!" said Darrow, as he stood in front of the judge's bench and surveyed the riotous hallway, where women struggled and fought with men to get close to the doorway in the hope that they might get near enough to hear Darrow make his plea.

"If those people at the door persist, bring them up here and I'll send somebody over to jail," snapped Judge Caverly, at last. "Don't let anybody else in—no matter who."

Darrow began his plea in a voice that penetrated the corners of the courtroom. The crowd outside was yelling. His voice was soft as a woman's. Half a dozen times in his first hundred words he was interrupted by sounds of conflict at the door. He could not continue.

Judge Caverly's wrath rose higher and higher. The people in the hall howled louder and louder.

This disorder became so great at 2:15, after Darrow had several times been forced to halt, that Judge Caverly left his bench to bring renewed pressure to bear on the deputies and police to clear the building.

Big Corporation Asks Dissolution Decree

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22.—The United States Security company of Pasadena, a $100,000 corporation that it is asserted has never done business, asks a court decree of dissolution in a petition filed today in superior court. The $100,000 capital was all subscribed but none was ever issued. The corporation owns no property, has no assets nor liabilities. Directors include A. F. Fitzgerald, Edmund D. Barry and A. D. Barry.

FINANCIAL BRIEFS

By Southland News Service

Application of Missouri Pacific for authority to acquire control of the New Orleans, Texas & Mexico and to issoe $18,000,000 7 per cent 15-year notes has been assigned by the interstate commerce commission for oral argument at Washington on October 3.

Receipts of California oil at Atlantic and Gulf coast ports for the week ending August 16 totaled 702,000 barrels, against 1,038,000 barrels the previous week.

Southern Pacific July gross for 1924 was $22,692,131, against $24,352,845 in the same month of 1923.

General Petroleum for the year ended June 30, after depletion, etc., netted $8,267,329, or 30 per cent on common, against $5,991,397 or 22.2 per cent on common the previous year.

The advancing tendency in American and Canadian markets, the strength in Argentine and fears of frost in Canada have been of influence in creating a firmer tone in wheat. Offerings of Manitoba wheats are being rather firmly held.

Southern California daily oil production slumped sharply with a total yield of 341,700 barrels for the week ending August 16, against 350,642 in the previous week, the largest decline in weeks.

Corn is furnishing the speculative sensation in the grain markets. The situation is expected to continue for the next 30 days, or at least until more is known about the outcome of the crop. An early frost, say about September 15, would catch a large area of corn in condition to be damaged.

The bond department of the Bank of Italy is participating in the syndicate offering 1,000,000 United Light and Power company 5½ per cent first lien and consolidated mortgage bonds at 9½ to yield 6.10 per cent.

L. A. EXCHANGE

By Southland News Service

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22.—Julian Petroleum stocks today were made the target of an attack on the floor of the Los Angeles stock and bond exchange and as a result, the price slumped suddenly in the preferred from an open of $13.25 to $13, down to $12.25, thence to $11.75. Just before the noon recess the stock regained ¼ and closed at noon at $12.

The common stock opened at $7.75, rose to $8 and then declined under heavy selling pressure to $7.50.

Union Oil was firm at $32. Union Oil of California remained firm at $132 while Mascot Oil was up 1 point, trading lightly at $85. Standard Oil of California opened at $57.50.

In the mining list Telluride mining sold heavily at .10. At that price 10,000 shases changed hands.

Richmond mining was steady at .06½.

Los Angeles Investment opened at $3.62, advanced to $3.64 and declined to $3.60 at the close of the morning session.

Edison common was firm at $98.50. Among the banks First National was traded at $377; Citizens' National at $304 and Bank of America at $135.

General Motors declared regular quarterly 30-cent common dividend payable September 12, also $1.75 on 7 per cent, $1.50 on 6 per cent preferred and $1.50 on 6 per cent debentures, all payable November 1.

RUMORS ARE QUASHED

Rumors that work has been held up on the million-dollar hotel being erected at the northeast corner of East Broadway and Glendale avenue were quashed this morning by an announcement from the office of C. W. Ingledue, 109 South Glendale avenue, president of the company. It is only because minor changes were necessary in the plans that Kinne & Westerhouse have stopped work for a day or so, it was stated.

A cord of wood will make about 96,000 pages of ordinary paper.

CHICAGO WHEAT

WANT BALL PARK

SANTA ANA, Aug. 22.—Directors of the Santa Ana Junior Chamber of Commerce are fostering a move to locate a ten-acre ball park here with sufficient seating capacity to accommodate the fans now enjoying the national pastime in the county seat city. Plans also are on foot to organize one of the strongest teams in the southwest here this winter.

OPPOSE PACIFIST MOVE

ANAHEIM, Aug. 22.—Because a so-called "pacifist" movement had its origin in one of the churches and civic organizations of this city plans are going ahead under the direction of former service men to stage one of the largest "Defense Day" programs in the southwest to carry the program of patriotic preparedness to the people, it was revealed today.

BLACKSMITH INJURED

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 22.—Doctors were surprised here when C. D. Fuller of Wintersburg reported for treatment at the emergency hospital. They are accustomed to bathers being hurt, motorists smashed up, but it is seldom the record reads "Hurt by a horse while shoeing." It was a common accident in the olden days, according to Dr. R. E. Hawes, but blacksmiths are few in number now.

PUT JUDGE ON DIET

SANTA ANA, Aug. 22.—Justice of the Peace J. B. Cox, nemesis of speeders in Orange county, is a mighty sick man, but he pledges that he will recover to tie a few more marriage knots and collect some more revenue from the fast ones if the doctors will only tell him that he can eat. "The three I have had tell me what I can't eat," he says, "and milk toast is the only thing they miss." Now how can a judge send a film queen to jail on a diet of graveyard stew?

CRUELTY TO BIRDS

RIVERSIDE, Aug. 22.—Because of the cruelty exhibited by certain people rowing in Lake Evans at Fairmount park it will be necessary for the city to pass an ordinance making it a misdemeanor to disturb the geese and other wild fowl which find refuge in the waters of the lake. One youth is said to have deliberately crippled six birds with an oar.

FAMILY ROMANCE

WHITTIER, Aug. 22.—Evaline and Frank Faulkner, brother and sister by adoption, have left for the east where they will be married, it is reported, after discovering they were no natural kin of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Faulkner of this city.

STAGE LINE REPORT

SANTA ANA, Aug. 22.—With the statement that the Pickwick Stages system is carrying 60,000 persons per month between Los Angeles and Orange county points, Santa Ana, Santa Barbara and other principal cities are in line for complete terminal buildings, according to Charles F. Wren, president of the Pickwick system. Mr. Wren declared that if all Pickwick Stage routes were placed end to end, they would more than reach from coast to coast. The corporation not only operates its own terminal buildings, but also manufactures its own motor coaches, the president stated.

POWER PLANT ELECTION

ANAHEIM, Aug. 22.—The city council, believing that Anaheim can make its own power as cheaply as it can be bought from the Edison company, recently adopted a resolution of intention to call an election, at which voters will be asked to approve an issue of $240,000 for a municipal light and power plant.

SAILOR IS KILLED

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 22.—Urik Santola, a Finnish sailor of the seven seas, who had letters on his person indicating that he was everything from cook to navigator on many a small sloop, met death near here at Serena, but not by the wreck of the sea. A large automobile in which he and Captain Victor Rasmussen were riding overturned.

PLAN ANNUAL FIESTA

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 22.—An annual fiesta like Old Spanish Days held here last week is planned by Santa Barbara business men and they express hopes today of making it as well known as the Mardi Gras of New Orleans. Last week's activities were highly praised by visitors.

WILL USE SEAWEED

SAN PEDRO, Aug. 22.—Investigations are under way here with a view of establishing a giant kelp products factory somewhere in the vicinity of Los Angeles. Sites are being considered here and at Redondo Beach. It is proposed by the Meludite people to produce a fibre used in binding carbon brickets.

BORAX PACKING PLANTS

SAN PEDRO, Aug. 22.—Two $500,000 packing plants for the Pacific Coast Borax company will be built in the near future, one here and another at Pomona. A million dollar reduction plant now is operating on Terminal Island.

PETS WRONG KITTY

SAN PEDRO, Aug. 22.—When a woman in the Point Firmin district called for help the other evening little did Officer Zeke Huntley imagine what was causing the disturbance under the front porch of her home. Seems she had petted the wrong kind of a kitty and she desired a policeman to kill it. Armed with a garden hose and rock Zeke did battle, but not without burying his clothes.

Copper Mine Nearing Normal Production

JUNEAU, Alaska, Aug. 22.—It is expected that production of copper by the Kennecott Copper company of Kennecott, Alaska, suspended because of the destruction of the power plant by fire, will be back at 40 per cent normal by September 20 and at full production by December 1.

FORM FLYING CLUB

SANTA ANA, Aug. 22.—The call of the great open spaces has resulted in the organization here of the Orange County Aerial club, with George C. Calhoun, president. With the expectation to further aviation in this county, members of the club will learn to fly and be pilots under the teachings of Eddie Martin, veteran Orange county flier.

Recent Harness Sales Show Steady Advance

ST. PAUL, Aug. 22.—Sales of harness, particularly for farm use, have increased 20 per cent in the last 10 days, according to local manufacturers. The present volume of trade is the best booked this year.

Firm Hide Market Is Help to Shoe Trade

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 22.—The activity and firmness in the hide market is acting as a stimulant to the leather and shoe industries. Leather men are now figuring on replacement values and marking up prices on stock accordingly.

RECOVERS AFTER AUTO COLLISION

Eagle Rock Realty Man Is Struck by Street Car While Motoring

EAGLE ROCK, Aug. 22.—J. W. Whitlock, well known in local realty circles, is recovering from the serious automobile accident that resulted when his sedan was struck recently by a compartment car of the Glendale-Montrose Railway company, at the intersection of Colorado boulevard and Broadway.

Miraculously escaping death, or serious injury, G. W. Shockley, 2187 Ontario, Buena Vista, whose car was forced through the guard rail on the north side of the Colorado street bridge, plunged over a steep 100-foot embankment and emerged unscathed and with only one spoke broken from his car. The collision occurred when a car driven by Ebert A. Wilcox, 5021 Floriston avenue, Eagle Rock, crashed into Shockley's car.

Shockley piloted the car in its wild crash down the embankment, averted a second crash on the boulders and trees and brought the car to a stop with no serious damage. In its flight the car carried an eight-foot section of the heavy four-inch guard rail nearly to the bottom of the incline.

Seals Scare Guest

Miss M. McDaniel, local real estate dealer, spent several pleasant days last week with the Dr. A. B. Ross's of Los Angeles, at Alamitos Bay. Miss McDaniel found the charming summer colony a most pleasant summer place. Many of the people commute to Los Angeles to their business, returning to the cool ocean breezes after the warm days in the city. Miss McDaniel had a thrilling experience at the Bay city. One night while sleeping on a porch over the water, she was awakened by the high tide booming in and later heard terrifying sounds, much as if human beings were in distress in the black water that swirled in. Unable to see and with no assistance near, Miss McDaniel spent many terrible minutes listening. When the tide went out and morning came, Miss McDaniel discovered that a group of seals were in the habit of coming in with the tide and disporting near her porch.

DOUBLE PROGRAM ON ANNIVERSARY

San Fernando to Celebrate Admission Day and Mission's Birthday

TUJUNGA, Aug. 22.—In a recent address before the Kiwanis club, John Steven McGroarty gave out the information that San Fernando will be the scene of a double celebration September 9, when California Admission Day and the 127th anniversary of the founding of San Fernando Mission will be celebrated. Music, sports, oratory and varied entertainment will comprise a program that will begin at 11 o'clock and continue through the day.

Mr. McGroarty stated that Madame Schumann-Heink, world-famed singer; Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford will be among the celebrities who will participate in the program. Governor Richardson of California is expected to deliver an address. Mr. McGroarty estimated that 100,000 people will attend the celebration.

The Golden Scroll

Spanish singers and dancers of the Mission Play and the Mission orchestra will also contribute to the program, through the courtesy of Mr. McGroarty. A tableau will be presented representing the signing of the treaty between Don Pio Pico and General Fremont.

Chapter number 17 of the Society of the Golden Scroll will be formed at this time, Mr. McGroarty stated. The Golden Scroll is a movement recently started that is expected to become a state-wide institution for the purpose of restoring and perpetuating the old California missions. It is proposed to build a membership of 100,000 people, with an initial fee of $5 and annual dues of $1. This fund is to be used in the work of restoring the missions, to which Mr. McGroarty is devoting his life.

Scientists Ready to Learn Facts of Mars

LOWELL OBSERVATORY, FLAGSTAFF, Ariz., Aug. 22.—Using specially designed instruments, including several of their own development, American scientists were prepared here today to reveal new facts concerning the planet Mars in its earthward swing, climaxing Saturday night.

Special attention will be devoted by Dr. W. W. Coblentz of the United States bureau of standards, Washington, D. C., assisted by Professor C. O. Lampland and Professor E. D. Slipper of Lowell observatory, in attempting to establish new facts about Mars' temperature. They said today they expected to learn at this time that Mars is considerably warmer than hitherto known, and is at least several degrees warmer than zero.

Youth Plays Baseball With Check In Pocket

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—Fortunately for Melvin Bellmer, 16, his boss once played baseball. Melvin started to the bank late yesterday with a $50,000 check for deposit. He passed a sand lot baseball game, couldn't resist the temptation to join in the game, and hours later—remembered the check.

The bank had closed, he could not reach his employers, the Balfour-Guthrie company, by phone, so he told the police when he learned they had been searching the highways and byways for him. "I just forgot," said Melvin.

Station's Name Leads To Confusion, Claim

TUJUNGA, Aug. 22.—A committee was appointed by the Tujunga Valley Realty board at the last meeting to investigate the possibilities of establishing a public automobile camp in Tujunga.

It was also voted to petition the Southern Pacific railway to change the name of the railroad siding at Roscoe. The siding is a shipping point and is known as Tujunga, which is confusing to shippers who send goods to Tujunga, an entirely different place. Many complaints have been made of goods unloaded at the Roscoe siding that should have been sent to Tujunga.

NEW WHEELBARROW

For handling fragile articles a Wisconsin man has designed a wheelbarrow with a pneumatic tire on its wheel.

CONFERENCE WILL DISCUSS FLOODS

Plans for Protection Will Form Topic at Meeting In Stough Canyon

BURBANK, Aug. 22.—The public is invited to be present tomorrow afternoon at the entrance to Stough canyon, near the intersection of Walnut avenue and Sunset Canyon drive, when a conference will be held on the flood menace which is known to exist at this point, with the idea of instituting protective action.

This matter was brought to a focus at the last meeting of the Board of Trustees when City Engineer Rose informed the board that he could not conscientiously recommend going ahead with the improvement of Sunset Canyon drive until something has been done to take care of the flood waters from Stough canyon.

He told the board that the proposed improvement of Sunset Canyon drive in that locality would in itself have the effect of changing the course of any flood waters coming down from the canyon, which would mean that the city would be liable for damages caused by such diversion of the natural channel.

Two Alternatives

Two ways were suggested by Mr. Rose in which the matter might be handled. One is the construction of a diversion dam up the canyon and the other is to construct a storm sewer from the mouth of the canyon to the Los Angeles river. The construction of the diversion dam, he said, would cost the least amount of money, but the storm sewer, he thought, would probably be the better. He advised the formation of a special flood control district as a means of paying for the work, or that part of the cost which the citizens of Burbank would be expected to meet.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Williams of 269 Angeleno avenue have returned from a visit to their old home in Iowa, visiting relatives and friends at Iowa City and Cedar Rapids. On their return trip they came by way of Chicago, New Orleans, El Paso, over the Southern Pacific.

Tujunga, Sunland to Have Playing Field

TUJUNGA, Aug. 22.—A committee of Kiwanis members is now working on plans for securing a playground for Tujunga and Sunland boys and girls. The playground as planned will include a ball diamond and athletic field. The Tujunga Valley Realty board indorsed the plan at the last meeting and passed a resolution to ask the board of school trustees to provide for the construction of the grounds by a bond issue.

The plan is to build a public playground on the five-acre site owned by the school board on Elm street, which is not at present being used. The committee estimates that $6,000 will build a very complete field, with wire fence and a four-inch layer of red decomposed granite.

Rush Work of Laying Tujunga Gas Mains

TUJUNGA, Aug. 22.—Without loss of time, the work of laying gas mains has begun on Monte Vista boulevard, where three-inch pipes will be laid to serve the section east of Sunset boulevard. Twenty-five men will be employed in digging ditches and connecting the line. Surveyors are laying out the connecting lines in all parts of town and the work will be rushed as fast as possible.

The main line from Roscoe will be laid by contract, while the local work will be done by the Southern California Gas company, employing local men. Representatives of the company state that three months will be required to complete the work to a stage where gas will be available.

CHAPTER XXXIII.

They were walking up the Avenue as they spoke; Kronski's lean long arm guiding Hilary at the crossings, and both entirely oblivious of their surroundings. Now Kronski plunged into an optician's shop, and here found his valet, with the gentle, white-headed old musician in tow.

Hilary took the veined old hand reverently; the rheumy, bright old blue eyes looked at her with affectionate tears. Konrad put a filial arm about the thick overcoat in introducing Von Mandescheid; dismissing the valet, and beaming with sympathetic joy as Hilary addressed his companion in his own tongue. The girl saw a flowing full beard as soft and white as milk, a venerable forehead under a foreign-looking round cap, and pink, healthy cheeks wrinkling with a great smile. Von Mandescheid wore a brown knitted muffler and thick gloves of a rich green color.

Kronski entered into the subject of the new eyeglasses with passionate interest, and when the aged man had sight again, and looked first from one face to the other, and then about the decorous handsome shop with delighted keenness, he and Kronski embraced each other in joy. He had broken his spectacles on the big ship; or rather the cow of a stewardess had set her great hoof upon them, Kronski explained, and he had been very unhappy.

They left the shop with the old man between the young man and woman, guided by their locked arms, and happy in their brisk conversation. Hilary led the way through quiet side streets to a restaurant of which Craig had told her some weeks before; he sometimes lunched there when he was alone, for the peace and quiet, and praised the food.

Kronski showed great satisfaction when he saw that it was a Hungarian establishment, and the three settled themselves contentedly at one of the small tables, a table spread with an immaculate limp cloth and set with bone-handled knives and forks, cruets in blue glass, and high-stemmed tumblers pressed in lumpy designs. The waiter was not long in discovering that he was dealing with nobility, and immediately the proprietor dashed forth. Kronski stood up for what was virtually an embrace, and Von Mandescheid was welcomed with only slightly lessened warmth.

Hilary, receiving her share of the ovation with appropriate simplicity and pleasure, felt herself so thoroughly in the spirit of the hour that Dora and Craig, and everything worrisome and unpleasant, was forgotten, and she laughed with sheer delight in the absurdity and yet charm of the occasion. The long, plain room was almost empty; sunshine struck in through the old Nottingham lace curtains that screened their table from the street; the air was warm and fresh.

And the food, when it came in, was delicious even to her, and to her companions evidently a genuine feast. They knew all the dishes; could discourse upon them with the chef, who came out of his kitchen to be sure that all were well satisfied, and Kronski's frank gluttony was somewhat excusable in Hilary's eyes when old Von Mandescheid assured her that "the boy" had not eaten a full meal for nine days.

"But tell me all your plans!" she had said, before this, and Kronski, resigning the bill of fare into the hands of his new friend the proprietor, launched into them with enjoyment.

He was to play with the symphony societies here and in all the big cities, on such and such and such dates. And then he was to give two concerts in March; he took a list from his pocket, and Hilary studied it with him interestedly. Boston, Chicago, Philadelphia might then each have a concert or two, and then, when he came back, perhaps the big farewell concert, in April.

And then to Norway again, and to his beloved beaches, where he could cook and tramp!

Meanwhile Von Mandescheid, upon whose old hand he laid his as he spoke, should stay in New York; Kronski's manager had rented a studio here, did Hilary know the Berringer studio, in Fifty-ninth Street? He had just been to see it. He had brought his cook, and while he was away Von Mandescheid would keep house, "like the kind wife that waits at home," he said, and perhaps take a few pupils for the violin, and perhaps play with the symphonies.

"You weren't here last winter?" Hilary said.

"You weren't here last winter? As if she did not know it," echoed Kronski, scornfully. "Come, you don't know whether poor Kronski is here or not," he rebuked her. "No, I am in South America last winter, and also I am in Italy," he told her. "But I am here two years ago, and you don't come to see me—you burn the Amati for stovewood, perhaps?"

"That was the first winter after Butterfly's marriage," Hilary said. "She was abroad until Christmas. I knew you were here, and I did mean to hear you in Philadelphia, but that was a lonely winter for me . . ." She had begun with a smile, but now to her own surprise her voice suddenly thickened and her lower lip shook violently and uncontrollably. She had to stop, or begin to cry.

"She weeps that she loses her sister, the beautiful sister has been married," Kronski explained to old Von Ma descheid, in German. And very softly he brushed Hilary's cheek with his fur cuff, and showed her the bright tear shining on the fur. The older man patted her hand tenderly and made a little clucking, sympathetic sound in his throat.

Well, they were a pair of absurd, primitive children, of course, Hilary thought, laughing, and quite frankly drying her eyes. But something about their foreign simplicity was wonderfully touching and sweet after the dry insincerities of the life she had been leading for several weeks, and after the solitude of Mount Holly. While they attacked their hot, strongly seasoned food, and gratefully drank the strong, highly flavored coffee, she told them about Dora. Kronski remembered Craig well, and asked naturally how their baby was?

Hilary shook her head. No children.

"That is bad," Kronski said, simply. "If ever I have a beautiful wife, she shall have children—eight, ten. Then if she lies awake and sighs in the night, I know what she is worrying about! . It is Nini, that her teeth do not come through, or it is Toto, that he has broken Papa's favorite bow! The women," Kronski finished, wiping his black up-flaring moustache with great sweeps of his thin little red-monogrammed napkin, "the women, yes. We must have them; we do not care about them! They are soft, they are pretty, they cry and we give them jewels and furs. But the wife," he added, with sudden emphasis upon the last word, "ah, that's different! She shall be always good, always simple, always loving. Yes."

Love has been made the subject of many plays, comic and tragic, but seldom with more success than in "The Love Test," from the clever pen of Joseph P. Judge, now showing at 8 o'clock nightly at the tent theatre of Murphy's Comedians, corner of Central avenue and Stocker street, Casa Verdugo.

As its name would imply, this offering is a comedy. It is one of those hilarious rural affairs that are by their very nature screamingly funny. Manager J. A. Menard of Murphy's Comedians urges show-goers to bring their children to see it, stating that this play, as is the case with every offering at their tent, is scrupulously clean and could not possibly offend anyone.

Lumber Orders Show Decrease In South

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 22.—Lumber orders to Southern Pine association mills fell off 6.8 per cent last week, production decreased 1.1 per cent and shipments increased 2 per cent. The mills shipped 75,000,000 feet and made 66,000,000 feet, while 78,200,000 feet were ordered. Unfilled orders total 223,800,000 feet.

EX-PIRATE PASSES

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 22.—Peter Peracovich, former pirate and intimate of several Mexican revolutionary presidents, died at his shanty on the beach. He had the reputation of being "a man without fear." "Pete," as he was known to the people of the beach, carried many scars of battle to his grave with him, having been instrumental in the disappearance of more than one adversary of the late Porfirio Diaz, he boasted.

New England has over 1,500,000 French speaking people.

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE STICK SAND

"Please take me down to the beach and help me make sand pies, Uncle Wiggily," begged Baby Bunty one morning. The little orphan rabbit girl was visiting, for a time, with the bunny gentleman at his seashore driftwood bungalow.

"All right, Bunty; just a moment until I get the paper. Then I can read in the shade of the seaweed bush while you play," said Mr. Longears with a jolly pinkle of his twink nose.

"Oh, aren't you going to play with me?" exclaimed Baby Bunty, looking sort of disappointed like and sad. "I want you to chase me, and play tag and let me tickle you with a clam shell and all things like that."

"Now see here, Baby Bunty!" cried Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, shaking the end of her tail at the little rabbit girl, "Uncle Wiggily is very kind to you as it is, taking you to the beach. You must let him read his paper in peace and play by yourself making sand pies."

"Oh, all right—I will," promised Bunty. She was always very sweet and good when Nurse Jane spoke to her that way. So down to the beach went the rabbit gentleman and little bunny girl. And while Bunty played on the shore, Uncle Wiggily read his paper, sitting on a pile of seaweed.

All of a sudden the bunny uncle felt some one pulling his coat tails, and a voice shouted:

"You shouldn't let that little rabbit girl play down on the sand like that! Look at her!"

It was a kind old Sea Robin—a queer sort of a fish—who had spoken. Uncle Wiggily looked at the Sea Robbin and then down the beach, where, a little way off, Baby Bunty was playing by herself.

"Why shouldn't I let Bunty play there?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "She is doing no harm, that I see."

"No, but she is in danger," said the Sea Robin. "There are stick sands where she is playing."

"Stick sands?" cried Uncle Wiggily. "What are they?"

"Well, sometimes they are called quicksands," answered the Sea Robin. "They are sand with water under them, and if you once get caught in them it is hard to get out. They hold you like glue. That's why I call them stick sands. There! Look! Baby Bunty is caught!"

Just as the Sea Robin spoke, Uncle Wiggily looked and saw Baby Bunty raise her paws in the air, and she cried:

"Oh, I'm caught! I'm stuck in the stick sands! Help me, Uncle Wiggily."

The rabbit gentleman and the Sea Robin rushed to the stick sands, and, throwing Baby Bunty a rope made of twisted seaweed, they pulled her out, after some hard work. For Uncle Wiggily and the Sea Robin would not have dared to step on the sands themselves, or they would have been caught. That's why they used a rope.

"I didn't know there were sticky sands there," said Bunty, when she was safe on the solid beach.

"Nor did I," said Uncle Wiggily, "or I would have watched you so you didn't play there. Next time we'll be more careful."

And as Bunty was thanking the Sea Robin for having helped her the sly old Walrus bobbed up out of the ocean and tried to catch the rabbit gentleman. But Bunty threw sand in his eyes and the Walrus cried: "Oh, fiddlesticks!" and back into the sea he flopped.

"I'm having a lovely time!" laughed Bunty as she made a clam shell bed for her rag doll. And if the bicycle doesn't turn upside down when the Jumping Jack is giving his twin sister a ride on the rear wheel, I shall next tell you about Uncle Wiggily and the jelly beans.

Heart and Home — Health and Happiness

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

ANSWERS TO MOTHERS

DIET AND HEIGHT

"Dear Doctor:—Is there any diet, medicine or exercise that will help a child to grow? My little boy wants me to ask you. He is five feet one inch in height and 15 years old. He is very sensitive about his height because his twin brother is five feet, seven inches tall. My husband is a small man, and this makes the boy afraid he will not grow very much. He is anxious to hear from you in the column, and will do anything you advise.—Mrs. H."

Tell your boy he has lots of time to grow yet if he is only 15 years old. Have you been following our articles on diet for children in our column? The foundation diet which I have given so often (and will continue to give), is as follows (he will eat other foods, but be sure to give him these):

Protective Foods—Three glasses of milk each day, at least.
One cupful of vegetables (especially the green leaf vegetables) part raw.
One full cupful of fruit, part fresh, if possible.

Energy Foods — Cereals and whole-grain breads.
Fats in the form of butter, cream, egg yolks, nuts.

He can probably take a quart of milk a day with benefit. Then he must be out in the sunshine and air a good deal of the time; and he must exercise, swing on horizontal bars, use Indian clubs, dumbbells, row and swim; he should sleep in a well ventilated room and have plenty of rest. He should get nine or ten hours of sleep.

Tell him not to worry. If he continues to eat correctly and live hygienically, he undoubtedly will grow considerably taller.

It has been found that Japanese children who are born and brought up in America and have the more varied diet that the American children have, grow taller than the children brought up in Japan.

CRIPPLED FEET

"Dear Doctor Lulu:—I value very highly your daily writings. They have helped me wonderfully. I have reduced by them; have brought up my last baby by them. I simply can't do without your column now. I had quite a bit of trouble feeding my other infants and dreaded this one, but like a Godsend your articles appeared. I followed them faithfully and have had wonderful success with her. I am feeding my other children according to your method also. I want to take this opportunity to thank you gratefully for all your help.

"I want your advice now on my one great worry. My son, age 11 years, has a very, very bad case of crippled feet. His feet are so bad that they are all out of shape. They bulge terribly at the arches and lean toward each other to the very extreme. He is a very tall boy for his age and his feet make him walk awkwardly. He worries me terribly because unless something is done for him he will always be that way. For two years now he has taken exercises and worn special shoes, but I despair of having his feet corrected. I am told his feet will always look like that. Surely there is something that can be done, isn't there, Doctor? I am willing to do absolutely anything. I have never seen a pair of feet so bad as his.—Mrs. J. H."

There is so much wonderful work being done for crippled children in the big cities by the orthopedic specialists that I cannot believe your boy's case is hopeless. Can't you go to some of the larger cities and see the specialists connected with the orthopedic hospitals? You live in Ohio and the nearest large city to you is Cleveland. Write to the County Medical Society in Cleveland and ask them if there isn't an orthopedic hospital there; ask also for a list of orthopedic specialists. I know that in New York, Chicago and Los Angeles they are doing wonderful work on crippled children. Undoubtedly Cleveland and other cities also offer the same advantage.

I am happy you have been helped by the column. I shall continue to write on diet for children and babies. The articles I have written on this subject are now compiled in book form. We have lists of other modern books on the subject which we will give to those who request them.

Tomorrow—Answers to Correspondents.

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible; if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s. a. s. e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Card Club Meets

Luncheon and games of five hundred were enjoyed yesterday by members of the Progressive Five Hundred club, who were guests of Mrs. C. C. Coghlin at 425 West Hawthorne street.

Gorgeous dahlias in various colors were used as the centerpiece of the luncheon table. Mrs. B. F. Fellows won first prize for the card games, and the consolation prize went to Mrs. Wollett.

There were present Mesdames Fellows, Wollett, Jenkins, Peterson, Carlisle, Cornell, Berg and Coghlin.

Take Motor Trip

Mr. and Mrs. George Thorpe, whose marriage took place Thursday, August 16, in Glendale, are now enjoying a motor trip north as far as Seattle, Wash. Mrs. Thorpe was formerly Gertrude Braun Sacker, and her marriage to Mr. Thorpe took place at the home of her mother, Mrs. Sophia Braun at 800 South Glendale avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Thorpe are to be at home after October 1 in Santa Maria, where he is superintendent of the Gaviota oil fields.

Entertains Club

Mrs. J. D. Rathbun of 423 West Colorado street entertained on Wednesday a group of women who form what is known as the "Merry Dozen . Five-Hundred Club." Prizes were won by Mrs. E. H. Holzer and Mrs. C. Hull.

Guests were Mesdames M. V. Conklin, Ernest Carr, C. H. Milbrook, C. Rowecamp. George Hotchkiss, F. Nichols, Roscoe Mesecher, E. H. Holzer, C. Hull, Mae C. Kelly of Glendale, and Mrs. George Graham of Los Angeles.

Honors Sister

Mrs. Frank G. Staley of 419 West Myrtle street entertained last Wednesday with a daintily appointed luncheon, complimenting her sister, Mrs. H. A. Strandguist of St. Paul, Minn. Covers were laid for Mesdames W. W. Worley, A. L. Baird, T. C. Young, Frank Johnson of Glendale, J. W. Witty and Frank Crosby of Hollywood the honor guest, Mrs. H. A. Strandguist of St. Paul, Minn., and the hostess.

Birthday Dinner

Mrs. T. C. Young was honoree last night at a delightful birthday dinner party and dance given by Mrs. A. L. Baird, at her home, 1729 Grand View avenue.

Dinner was served at 7 o'clock on a table beautifully arranged in soft pastel shades. A large candle in a great crepe paper rosebud in the pastel colors, was the centerpiece. Around this were smaller rosebuds in similar shades, holding smaller candles.

Beneath the plates were white lace paper doilies ruffled with pastel colored crepe paper.

Favors for the women were horns, cleverly disguised as little figures. For the men were various carnival figures with gold balls for heads. Decorations and favors were the artistic work of Estelle Brain.

Immediately after dinner the men enjoyed a putting contest on the green in the garden.

The later part of the evening was devoted to dancing.

Guests were Dr. and Mrs. T. C. Young, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Worley, Mr. and Mrs. George Kapus, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Hatz, Dr. and Mrs. L. V. Rankin, Mr. and Mrs. Max Green, and the Bairds' house guest, Mrs. E. C. Moore of Elgin, Ill.

Mrs. Young was the recipient of many lovely gifts.

Complete Pledge

St. Mark's Guild women have completed their pledge to the Mission church at Laguna Beach, by a series of informal social teas, the last of which was given yesterday at the home of the Guild president, Mrs. W. J. Farber, 209 East Palmer avenue.

The affair was a great success in every way, a large company being received to enjoy a very much worthwhile program.

Misses Cochran and Sels, formerly missionaries in Japan, were special guests. They told in a most interesting way experiences during their thirty years of service. To picture Japanese life to the company Miss Cochran posed as a Japanese hostess and Miss Sels as her guest.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mesdames Frank England, Grace Rowsey aind J. L. McOmber.

Guild members, their families and friends are to picnic next Tuesday at Santa Monica. Automobiles are to leave the church on South Louise street at 9:30 o'clock. Lunch will be eaten on the Santa Monica pier.

TIGERS OVERCOME LARGE LEAD, WIN

Beavers Drop Third Game of Series After Piling Up Eight Runs

By C. R. SIMMONS
For Southland News Service.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22.—Overcoming an eight-run lead, the Vernon Tigers defeated Portland in the third game of the series here yesterday, 10 to 9. 'Twas a weird affair, tight in spots, but downright sloppy for most of the distance.

Both clubs erred freely and untimely, but the Beavers' atrocious fielding, poor judgment and lack of the old pepper put them under, even after they had the Tigers 8 to 0 in the fourth. The fourth frame saw Vernon kick in four runs on errors, though Eckert, Portland hurler, was in no wise to blame. Another tally in the fifth, two in the eighth and three in the ninth tell the story.

The winning run was one of those affairs one often reads about but seldom sees. With two scores reeded, two down and two men on bases, McDowell, who last week pounded out three homers in one contest, stepped to the plate. Fans offered their support by masticating their cigars and crunching their sky pieces. The Tigers' first bagger doubled, sending Deal to third. But Charlie was in a hurry, and while Portland's second baseman was wondering what to do with the elusive pill, the daring Deal stole home, winning the game. Shellenback started for Vernon, but three others toiled on the mound, while Portland conserved a bit and used only three hurlers.

In Salt Lake, the Los Angeles Angels fell before the Mormons, 5 to 3. It was anybody's game up to the beginning of the ninth, but the Angels were unable to do their stuff at the right time.

San Francisco won their third straight from Sacramento yesterday, 5 to 2. Four runs pushed across in the eighth sewed things up for the Seals.

Three runs in the ninth brought victory to the Seattle Indians over the Oakland club, 5 to 2. Both teams were credited with eight hits.

Gilmore Oilers Sign Mike File to Pitch

Another big time hurler has been added to the pitching corps of the Gilmore Oil club, declares Manager Cliff McCarl, Mike File, local youngster who has seen service with Vernon, Lincoln and several other league clubs, was signed to a Gilmore contract yesterday. The addition of File to the Oilers' ranks will give them one of the best flinging staffs in the South. Bob Wallace has been doing the bulk of the Gilmore hurling.

READY FOR NIGHT RACING AT ASCOT

First Program to Be Staged Saturday Night; Expect Plenty of Thrills

The inaugural night racing meet at Ascot Speedway scheduled for Saturday night will introduce to the Pacific coast for the first time the spectacle of the dare-devil drivers whirling around a track under the glare of artificial light. It is the intention of the Ascot management to stage twice-monthly night racing programs to follow the Saturday night event.

A three unit power generating plant has been installed at Ascot with thousands of high-powered lights around the grounds and track. Forty-two racing drivers and twelve motor-bike riders have been entered in the nine races on the program.

Leon Duray, world's dirt track champion; Jack Petticord, Canadian national champion; Eddie Meyer, Redlands cyclone; Floyd Roberts, Cliff Bergere, Frank Lockhart, and other Ascot favorites are among those who have been nominated.

The Thomas A. Edison sweepstakes at a distance of fifteen laps will be the feature race of the evening, and the Italian colony victory crown, now held by Leon Duray, who won the coveted trophy from DePalma two months ago, will be contested for over the one lap dash route. The Moonshine stakes will also be a featured race. The first race will start at 8:30 o'clock.

Greb Wins In Battle With Tiger Flowers

FREMONT, Ohio, Aug. 22.—Harry Greb, world's middleweight champion, today demonstrated his superiority over Tiger Flowers, a negro contender for Greb's honors.

Greb, fighting at catch weights, last night easily won the newspaper decision in his ten-round go with the Atlantan. Greb had the best of the fifth, eighth, ninth and tenth rounds, Flowers won the first and the others were even.

It was announced at the ringside that Gene Tunney, light heavyweight champion, and Greb would meet in a ten-round no-decision bout at Cleveland, September 8.

Planning Experts to Address Valley C. C.

The Associated Chambers of Commerce of the San Fernando valley will hold a meeting at Legion hall, Tujunga, on Tuesday night, August 26, when addresses will be delivered by Hugh Pomeroy, secretary of the regional planning commission on "The New Circle Drive," and by G. Gordon Whitnall, secretary of the Los Angeles City Planning commission, on "Parks." Musical selections will also be rendered during the dinner that will precede the speeches.

TAGGING THE BASES

The Giants took a doubleheader from the Cardinals, 8 to 4 and 12 to 1, and increased their lead to five and one-half games. Hornsby got seven hits in as many times at bat.

Four runs in the ninth enabled the Braves to nose out the Pirates, 7 to 6, but Pittsburgh got an even break when Yde pitched them to a 5-to-0 victory in the night cap.

Brooklyn crept half a game nearer second place by defeating the Cubs, 2 to 0.

Washington took a close one from the White Sox, 2 to 1, and advanced to within a game and a half of the Yanks.

The Browns broke even in a doubleheader with the Athletics. St. Louis won the first game, 11 to 2, bu lost the second, 5 to 4, when a ninth inning rally fell short.

The Red Sox beat Cleveland in the tenth, 2 to 1, when Summa lost Quinn's fly in the sun.

Foreign born in the United States speak 34 different languages.

Portland Beavers May Train at Sox Park In Glendale

The White Sox park on San Fernando road may be the 1925 spring training quarters of the Portland Beavers. Bill Klepper, president of the Beavers, has been looking over the Glendale ball plant the last few days and announces that he is greatly in favor of bringing his crew down here to work out next year, according to Frank Kerwin, owner of the White Sox and grounds.

Other cities Klepper has been considering include Long Beach, Anaheim and Fullerton, and the choice has narrowed down to Long Beach and this city, with Glendale holding the odds.

SAGE AND KELLY TO BOX TONIGHT

Meet at Hollywood Stadium Plan Plenty of Action For Ring Fans

Another of those well-known "fightingest" fight cards is billed for tonight at the Hollywood American Legion stadium, topped off by Bob Sage and Tom Kelly, scrappy middleweights, who will mix in the main event. Sage, who practices law in Detroit when not in the ring, holds a victory and a draw with Mickey Rockson in his two fights at Hollywood.

Kelly got his chance to meet the Michigan lawyer when Frank Carbone, matched to battle Sage tonight, failed to show up at the first curtain call. It will be Kelly's initial start in a windup event, since he has been milling around in preliminary bouts and semi-finals for some time.

Joe Schlocker and Al Grunan are billed for the semi-windup tonight. These lightweights are known as slugging fighters, and should provide a lot of excitement for the customers. Frankie Osner and Ernie Ross will display their wares in the special spot. Other bouts will be Young Bello and Georgie Sherman, 135 pounds; Mike Solano and Jack Holt, 130 pounds; Marcel Denis and Battling Ward, 130 pounds, and Mike Russo and Billy Blake, 115 pounds.

NEW YORK CLOSING

By W. S. COUSINS
For International News Service

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Cross currents ruled in the stock market today. The failure of prices to continue their upward movement in the early trading, and the lighter resistance to selling pressure, were seized by the professional element as a good pretext for a wholesale dumping of stocks on the market. The whole market displayed a weak tone as prices of speculative leaders like United States Steel, American Can, Canadian Pacific, Baldwin Locomotive, etc., broke from 1 to 3 points, representing in many cases declines of 5 to 10 points from the high levels attained earlier in the week.

The selling was due entirely to technical developments in the market; the refusal of the public, generally, to take an active part in market activities; the accumulation of paper profits which therefore seemed to be endangered; the stubborn attitude of bearish operators who have been fighting the advance all the way through, and their belief that the present level of prices offered good opportunity for putting out new short lines.

When United States Steel broke through 109, selling became quite general and the price was accelerated by the action of such stocks as Colorado Fuel, etc., which has been weak from the start. Independent steels, motors, oils and coppers turned horizontally downward and losses were general all along the line.

The professionals had very little success in bringing out long stocks, however, and aided by the strength of leaders in the oil and equipment group, the whole market began to climb back to its original position. Atlantic Refining, in a brisk rally, rose swiftly from 86 to 92¾, as the bears ran for cover; Baldwin sold above 126; Cast Iron Pipe drew away from the crowd and sold above 107½ for the first time, and American Can advanced in short order from 134½ to 138.

Corn made slow progress in Iowa the past week, according to O. F. Hutton wires today. A few early fields in the extreme southeast part of the state have begun to dent, but for the state as a whole nearly 10 per cent has reached the roasting ear stage. The crop is now about three weeks late.

SECTION 2: The City Clerk shall certify to the adoption of this ordinance and cause the same to be published once in The Glendale Evening News, a daily newspaper printed, published and circulated in the City of Glendale, and immediately upon its adoption the same shall be in full force and effect.

Passed by the Council of the City of Glendale this 21st day of August, 1924.

SPENCER ROBINSON,
Mayor of the City of Glendale.
ATTEST:
A. J. VAN WIE,
City Clerk of the City of Glendale.
STATE OF CALIFORNIA,) COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES,) SS.
CITY OF GLENDALE.)

I, A. J. Proclamation

On motion of Councilman Davis, seconded by Councilman Kimlin, the following proclamation was adopted:

"Whereas, the president of the United States has approved the plans of the secretary of war to set aside Friday, September 12, 1924, as National Defense day, and

"Whereas, the World war demonstrated that the lack of preparedness and training were the direct cause of colossal waste in both lives and material, and

"Whereas, the reduction of standing army and armament can only be accomplished by perfecting the organized reserves, whereby the civilian population which is the backbone of national defense, can be organized and equipped without waste of time or material, and

"Whereas, September 12 is the sixth anniversary of the battle of St. Mihiel, the first major operation in the World war which was composed entirely of American troops, and this day will be observed in every military post and in practically every city and town in the United States, which event will provide instruction for persons in the military service and will also afford an opportunity for the regular army, national guard, organized reserves, veterans' societies and other military and citizens' organiations to conduct parades, programs and a mobilization test of the organized reserves, for the purpose of testing the plans which have already been made for the mobilization of such units and to familiarize the officers concerned with the duties with which they would be charged in the event that their organizations were actually mobilized in time of war.

"Now, therefore, I, Spencer Robinson, as mayor of the city of Glendale, do hereby proclaim Friday, September 12, 1924, as a day set aside in the city of Glendale, to demonstrate a spirit of loyalty and co-operation between the civilian population and civic bodies, and those who are devoting their energies toward the formation of a national defense system.

"As the American Legion is the one official organization of those who served during the World war and those who suffered most by our lack of adequate preparedness; I hereby appoint Post No. 127, American Legion, which is the Glendale unit of that body, to take complete charge of the program and to arrange such parades and ceremonies as it deems fit. The Legion will have the hearty support and co-operation of the officials of this city, and I call upon each and every civic body to lend the Legion the same hearty support and co-operation.

(Signed)
"SPENCER ROBINSON,
"Mayor of the City of Glendale."

Transfer of Funds

On motion of Councilman Hall, seconded by Councilman Kimlin, the sum of $128.60 was ordered transferred from the unappropriated reserve for the purchase of fire extinguishers and equipment, to be placed under the direction of the fire department for use in the prevention of brush fires.

Demands

Murphy's Comedians Offer Politics and Play

turned to Deputy Sheriff Townsend and said:

"Well, sheriff, you have closed Murphy's Comedians, but you are welcome to come in and see Mahurin's Players!"

Whereupon Sheriff Townsend turned to his men with a laugh and said:

"If you want to see a good, clean, $1.50 play for 33 cents, men, go on in!"

Several of the men accepted the invitation.

Thus closed the latest battle of wits between Murphy's Comedians and the Los Angeles county board of supervisors. The next skirmish will occur at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon, August 25, when J. A. Menard will appear in the justice court of Judge Harry W. Chase of Burbank township, at the Glendale City Hall, following his arrest August 18, on a complaint signed by R. C. Addison, county license inspector, charging him with operating a tent theatre without a license.

Wright Voted Against Show

This will be a friendly case, according to Attorney Everson, to test the power of the board of supervisors in revoking on July 7, to take effect August 1, the permit issued and paid for until October 1, entitling Murphy's Comedians to operate. Henry W. Wright, supervisor of this district, in which Glendale and Casa Verduga are located, cast his vote with the other supervisors to revoke the comedians' license and oust the show, according to Mr. Everson.

Asked why Sheriff Townsend did not bring warrants with him for the arrest of Murphy's Comedians, Mr. Everson stated that in his opinion the district attorney's office and the sheriff's office are not in accord with the board of Supervisors in their effort to close this popular show.

According to Mr. Everson, the case has an exact parallel in the McNulty case, heard before the California Supreme court in 1888, when the decisions of the Justice and Superior courts were reversed and the plaintiff discharged.

Flyers Reach Greenland
Any Political Arguments?
Glendale Grows And Grows
Prosperity Continues Here

—By Gil A. Cowan—

They got to Greenland, those intrepid American army pilots who yesterday sailed from Iceland's barren shores after suffering irretrievable delays.

The performance was 100 per cent with the Italian flyer, Locatelli, accompanying them on the most dangerous voyage over the freezing seas.

Mere words fail to express the admiration one feels toward these courageous men who, for no reason at all, are risking their lives to bring honor to the United States.

May the rest of their journey be in peace and comfort, if such is possible through the lesser dangers still lying in their sky paths to Santa Monica.

This is a political year. So far the writer hasn't heard or read a good argument yet, outside of local quarrels. It may be that the campaigns of the past were more impressive to the more youthful mind. But we doubt it.

Something tells us there is a lack of sincerity in the presidential campaign between the two principal parties. Again, we may be wrong. Or mayhap the big guns have not been fired.

In the Ninth California district Congressman Lineberger, who has absented himself during the primary campaign, will be surprised to learn that two others are seeking the coveted post for which he alone was nominated.

But certainly the local congressional race will not be half as exciting as that being waged in two other Southern California districts.

Congressman John D. Fredericks, representing Los Angeles, is finding strenuous opposition. And everything is being done to defeat Congressman Phil Swing in the southermost border counties.

Did you read the figures given out yesterday on the telephone growth of Glendale? More than 1,400 new phones installed or awaiting installation already this year!

Since 1920 this city has shown an increase of more than 300 per cent in telephones. And the orders are piling up faster than ever. It is some little task for the public utility corporations to keep pace with Glendale, but the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company appears to be making commendable progress.

Glendale is going full-speed ahead. So is Los Angeles. So is southern California.

Now for a few exceptions to remarks reported to have been made by the president of the American Railway Express company at a Pasadena luncheon club this week.

For some reason or other this captain of America's most monopolistic corporation painted dark pictures regarding our prosperity. At least that was the impression carried away by his hearers.

All right, but just how dark is the one bright spot of America today—southern California?

The Imperial valley, according to railroad figures (not chamber of commerce publicity) had the largest melon shipping season on record, the vegetables this year bringing a veritable shower of gold to the ranchers. E. W. Cuff, one of the largest seed dealers in the valley, was in Glendale yesterday and told the writer they had not enjoyed such prosperity for years.

Second, the cotton crop this year will be bigger and command greater prices than any year since 1920, when the market went to smash. There is a mighty lot of cotton ripening in the southland this season.

Third, while the structural building in Los Angeles is not up to that of last year, highways, sewers, flood control projects and public works are giving employment to more than would have been employed in the building trades. Just as much money is in circulation for payrolls as ever (and a little more). Also, Glendale is doing more building this year than last.

Fourth, the hoof and mouth disease did three million dollars' damage to the dairying industry—but it has been a dry year and feed crops scarce, so stock would have suffered likely as much for lack of food. On the other hand, the farmers are getting more for their hay, more for their dairy products and they are amply financed, which offsets any ill fortune they may have suffered.

Fifth, the tourist hotels not only are enjoying a good business, but it is predicted that new records will be established this year. Whereas last winter the Santa Barbara hotel men were complaining one reads that the Mission city has been unable to care for its summer visitors.

Sixth, it is complained that real estate subdivisions are not selling as rapidly as they were a year ago. True, very true, but permanent prosperity and unlimited speculation cannot go hand in hand very long without meeting up with Old Man Economic's sons, "Supply" and "Demand."

Yes, we have more homeowners, more home-builders, more real estate owners today per capita than any other metropolitan district in the world, the writer believes, and the real estate market is active. But it is not running wild.

To make a long story short the president of the American Railway Express company undoubtedly has been reading some of the buncombe published by eastern newspapers and believed it to be the truth.

Anyone else want an argument? That's all.

Subdivision Will Be Developed for Factories

Watson, Harry E. Hall, Wayne Tracy and W. H. Campbell, of Hollywood.

Work is to be started immediately, Mr. Baird states, on laying out the streets and installing the mains throughout the tract, and one important feature of the project will be the extension of West Broadway to the property at the expense of the present owners.

Means Homes for Glendale

The location of the tract, close to the residential property on the west side of Glendale, will, it is claimed, offer an ideal combination that will permit the erection of factories close to the city and that will afford the executives and employes of the various firms that locate there room to make their homes in close proximity to their work.

"In the past," says Mr. Baird, "when concerns asked about industrial property in Glendale, there was a certain amount of difficulty in securing exactly the sites they required, and in many instances all that we could do was to promise to secure something for them if possible. But this condition has been changed now, and we are prepared to offer ideal sites."

Discuss Problem of Delinquent Youths

The problem of the delinquent boy and girl was the topic of an address delivered before the Optimist club in the Alley Inn today by Judge Harry R. Archbald, of the juvenile department of the Superior court of Los Angeles county, in which he declared that one cannot expect the young people of today to walk the straight and narrow path when their elders consistently follow the broad and downward way.

Judge Archbald was introduced by Attorney Leslie Tarr, who assumed charge of the meeting after the regular business had been disposed of.

One of the biggest branches of the juvenile court work is that dealing with the youthful hoboes who are flocking to California, and another is that which has to do with the boys and girls of inferior mentality. Few old American families, he said, are represented in the juvenile court cases, the majority of them coming from families of foreign stock.

A number of the members of the club will attend the charter meeting that is to be held by the San Pedro Optimist club at the California Yacht club next Tuesday night.

It was suggested by Walter P. Potter that those members who are absent from meetings here should make up their attendance by meeting with clubs in adjacent cities.

Visitors at today's meeting were Dr. R. V. Hogue of Glendale, and H. A. Austin of the mathematics department of the Venice High school.

FIRE DESTROYS AUTO

An automobile belonging to H. J. McIntyre of 1428 East California avenue caught fire at a gas station on North Verdugo road shortly before 7 o'clock last night and was practically destroyed before the flames could be extinguished by the Glendale fire department. The loss was placed at $300 by Chief A. H. Lankford.
